Brown Asks $2.6 Billion State Budget

Delivers Stern Warning Against Extra Spending

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown submitted a 2.6-billion-dollar state budget to the legislature today with a stern veto warning against further spending in these uncertain times.

Brown proposed that the state dip into its dwindling reserves and abandon pay-as-you-go financing, at least temporarily, in order to balance the budget.

He called for no new taxes, however, in handing in what he described as one of the tightest budgets in California history.

Still, it's a record-breaker, just like every California budget since 1952.

The Democratic administration's 1961-62 spending outline points up the growing costs of education and social welfare. And it marks the first full commitment to state water development.

The 1,200 pages of figures includes 18.9 million dollars to proceed immediately with a high-level Oroville Dam, complete with power facilities.

REGIONAL PROJECTS

There's 3.6 million dollars for the state-federal San Luis Dam and Reservoir, and 25.4 million for a series of regional projects.

Oroville is the key unit of the statewide Feather River Project for which California voters approved 1.75 billion dollars in bonds last November. San Luis is where water will be stored for the San Joaquin Valley and Southern California.

Stories detailing aspects of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's proposed budget are on page 9.

The governor emphasized the recession theme in noting that the $2,592,304,521 budget total, while 113 million dollars more than for 1960-61, represents the lowest percentage increase since 1943.

'NARROWLY BALANCED'

His budget, he said, is "honestly but narrowly balanced."

"It submits to the most stringent tests of economy," he said, "without damage to the fundamental concepts of responsible liberalism."

Brown said he preferred to finance state costs out of current income. But he decided to apply 100 million dollars in bond money for state building and use up the bulk of the reserves to avoid a deficit.

Revenue has fallen short of estimates by 10 million dollars

Board Wants Expert Help On Hospital

The Marin County Board of Supervisors may seek help from an expert committee in solving the problem of what to do about the county's state-condemned hospital in Lucas Valley.

Supervisor J. Walter Blair yesterday suggested the board appoint a special committee of three, consisting of a hospital administrator, a businessman and "an engineer not familiar with what's gone before" to investigate and make recommendations.

Chairman William D. Fusselman, however, felt the committee should include "a construction engineer who knew what went on before."

Meanwhile, in view of the State Board of Hospitals recent notice that plans for temporary strengthening must be completed by March 1, and the work accomplished by May 1, it was decided that the board gather at the hospital at 10 a.m. Feb. 2, for a firsthand inspection.

Ship Seached In Murder Suspect Hunt

The search for Luis S. Aldeguer, wanted for last Saturday night's Mill Valley knife murder, has extended all the way to Los Angeles harbor, but without result.

Mill Valley Police Chief James P. McGowan said today a ship had been checked by Los Angeles police after it docked at Terminal Island yesterday on a voyage from San Francisco to Manila, in the belief that Aldeguer, Philippine national and onetime seaman, might be aboard. But no trace of him was found.

Meanwhile, Aldeguer's wife, Ruth, remained in "satisfactory condition" at Marin General Hospital, recovering from 20 knife wounds which the state contends were inflicted by her husband. He is charged with the knife slaying of James Roger Collins Jr. on the front walk of the Aldeguer home at 10 Plymouth Circle Mill Valley.

$6,750 EMBEZZLEMENT

Escrow Officer Admits Thefts

A Loma Verde father of two, who worked as escrow officer and bookkeeper at a title company in San Rafael for two and one-half years, has admitted embezzling $6,750 from the company and squandering some of the money at Reno and Las Vegas.

The admission came yesterday from quiet, neatly dressed Marshall Levi McCoy, 30, of 436 Alameda de la Loma, a trusted employee of Pacific Coast Title Co. in San Rafael. Inspector Lincoln Borba of San Rafael police, who arrested McCoy late yesterday, said the suspect admitted the theft.

McCoy was held in Marin County Jail today in lieu of $1,050 bail on a grand theft charge. He is scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow with an attorney to plead to the charge.

Harold F. Wolters, deputy district attorney, said no customer funds were taken, and the only funds involved were those of the company itself. According to Inspector Borba, McCoy admitted taking the money and returned $2,159. The remaining $4,590 will be returned by the bonding company.

Police said executives of the company began inquiring about McCoy's expense account because there was indication he had listed about $80 in unauthorized expenditures. This led to the discovery of phony escrows, which showed McCoy had taken $2,500 in November, $3,000 in December, and $1,250 this month, the deputy district attorney said.

Inspector Borba disclosed that McCoy admitted losing some money by gambling in Reno and Las Vegas and also used funds for entertainment. McCoy told police his wife had no knowledge of his actions because he had told her he made the extra money on tax land.

Police said McCoy operated in this way: He used real property descriptions and fictitious buyers and deposits. After the escrows were searched, he would then cancel the escrow and have the company bookkeeper make a check out for the phony deposit as a refund. This refund, he would keep for himself.

McCoy appeared before Judge Harold J. Haley in municipal court yesterday and indicated he wanted to plead guilty. But at the suggestion of the judge, he will try to get legal advice and is scheduled to enter his plea tomorrow afternoon.

He has no prior criminal record, Wolters said.

Tomales, Marshall Vote School Unionization

Voters in the Tomales and Marshall Elementary School Districts yesterday overwhelmingly approved unionization of the two districts.

The vote was 124 yes to 12 no in the Tomales Union Elementary District, and 29 yes to 6 no in the Marshall district. This was about a 43 per cent turnout of the approximately 400 voters in the two districts.

The vote means that the districts will be ruled by one board of five trustees. Names of interim board members for the new district, to be appointed by County Supt. Virgil L. Hollis, will be presented for consideration of the county board of education at its Feb. 6 meeting.

A new five-member board for the union district will be elected April 18.

The Marshall district now is governed by three trustees; the Tomales district by five trustees.

The interim board will decide on the name for the district.

Trustees of both districts indicated that one of the first moves of the new board will be consideration of a bond issue to finance expansion of facilities, probably an addition to the present Tomales elementary school. First and second graders at Tomales now meet in the Presbyterian Church; a class for retarded children meets in a rented home.

The one-room Marshall School has 23 pupils in grades one through five. The school is expected to remain open for lower grade students of the area. Upper grade students now attend the Tomales school under an inter-district agreement. There are 107 students in the Tomales school.

Annex Move Under Way At Novato

Owners of almost 1,200 acres of land last night made the first move toward annexing it to the City of Novato.

The land includes about 1,100 acres scheduled for residential development and approximately 94 acres of Marin Memorial Gardens Cemetery, all north of the city.

If approved by the state Boundary Commission and Novato City Council, the area would be connected to the city only by about a quarter mile of Bugeia Lane. The road leads into the city through 46 acres which the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Schwartz and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schwartz of San Rafael, last week asked be annexed to the city.

Annexation of the 1,200 acres depends on annexation of the Schwartz property, Novato City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. said today.

"Road strip" annexation is legally possible only if the connecting road is less than a half

Hijacked Ship Located, But It Eludes Hunters

Ringleader Vows No Surrender

NEW YORK (AP) — The leader of Portuguese dissidents who seized the cruise liner Santa Maria radioed to the Columbia Broadcasting System today that the vessel would not be surrendered to either Portuguese or foreign ships.

"If we are followed by Portuguese or foreign ships we will not surrender, nor will we stop," said the message from Henrique Galvao.

In his message, Galvao also said passengers shortly would be put ashore at a neutral port.

Exiled Leader Demands Search Be Called Off

SAO PAULO, Brazil (UPI)—Exiled Portuguese opposition leader Gen. Humberto Delgado last night took full responsibility for the rebel seizure of the Portuguese liner Santa Maria and said the takeover had been planned for the past five or six months.

Delgado demanded that the United States and Britain, whose warships and planes are scouring the sea in search of the pirated ship, call of their hunt.

"We are not pirates—we are engaged in a political war," he said.

Navy Tells Why Vessel Was So Hard To Find

WASHINGTON (AP) — Why was the Santa Maria so hard to find?

A Navy spokesman gave this answer today:

The difficulties of the search were compounded by the vastness of the ocean area involved and the heavy ship traffic over the sea lanes from South America and the West Indies.

The Santa Maria could have been anywhere in a watery expanse ranging upward from 100,000 square miles. Her radio transmissions were hard to separate wholly from those of scores of freighters, tankers and passenger vessels that might be in that part of the ocean.

Marinite Not Worried Over Sister On Ship

Mrs. Ernesta Fletcher of Novato "just about jumped out of my skin" when she learned yesterday her sister and brother-in-law are aboard a cruise ship seized by Portuguese dissidents.

John W. Dawson, retired owner of the Stanford Book Store in Palo Alto, and Mrs. Dawson, who is Mrs. Fletcher's sister, were aboard the Santa Maria on their way home from a three-month tour of Europe. They were to have landed in Miami yesterday.

Mrs. Fletcher, of 130 Crest Drive, Novato, was apparently unworried about the hijacking of the Portuguese cruise ship, after hearing news reports of assurances of passenger safety. "That's all that can be expected," she said.

Her optimism apparently was shared by relatives of other Americans on the vessel, Associated Press reports today indicated.

AP reported that Radio Corp. of America stations along the U.S. coast received more than a score of radiograms from the liner yesterday, and most of them were reassuring. The general tenor was "don't worry."

'POLL' ON TERRA LINDA

Residents Of City Favor Annexation

By JOHN CHAMBERS

San Rafael residents—or those who have any opinion on the matter—heartily favor annexation of Terra Linda, judging from a telephone sampling by the Independent-Journal.

Forty persons in business and residences scattered over the city were asked: "Do you think Terra Linda should be annexed to the City of San Rafael?"

Only one person said no. Fifteen answered yes. But 24 said they didn't know one way or the other.

Terra Linda residents will vote on March 7 on annexation to San Rafael. If a majority approves, the area will come into the city on July 1.

The lone dissenter, Mrs. Louis W. DeMartini of 5 Fairhills Drive, declared: "I think it would raise our taxes and I'm against that."

Those in favor mentioned additional tax revenue, "manifest destiny," and providing of better protection service to Terra Linda.

Mrs. Fern Gaspard of 10 Center Street said she thought annexation would save the San Rafael taxpayers money by helping to pay for the cost of government.

"The city is going to expand sooner or later," said Dr. Leslie A. Harper of 800 E Street. "It might as well be now."

Mrs. Edwin F. Halloran Jr. of 416 Forbes Avenue summed up the thinking of many residents. "They (the Terra Lindans) would get better police and fire protection and we would get more taxes," she said.

A little research disclosed the city's tax revenues would actually be less per capita if Terra Linda were included.

If annexed, Terra Linda would bring in an additional $5,001,020 assessed valuation, according to figures supplied by the county assessor's office. It would also bring into the city approximately 4,000 persons.

The area proposed to be annexed has about $1,250 assessed valuation per person.

San Rafael now has an estimated 1960-61 assessed valuation of $47,655,806. Its population as of last April was 20,293.

This means San Rafael has an assessed valuation per capita of $2,348.

If the two communities were lumped together the assessed valuation per capita would drop to $2,168.

Portuguese Liner Flees In Atlantic

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UPI)—The U.S. Navy today located the hijacked Portuguese ship Santa Maria 930 miles out in the Atlantic east of Trinidad today where it had fled after outwitting the American, British and Dutch navies.

The 20,906-ton luxury liner seized by an armed band of rebels pledged to the overthrow of the Portuguese government was halfway across the Atlantic toward the Portuguese Cape Verde Islands when discovered.

A U.S. Navy destroyer raced after her 500 miles behind with no hope of catching up. Two U.S. Navy destroyers sped from the port of Abidjan on the Ivory Coast of Africa on an interception course. But for the moment the rebel-held liner was in the clear.

Portugal sent destroyers and frigates into the Atlantic today to protect its African holdings—the Cape Verde Islands, the Azores, Portuguese Guinea on the tip of Africa just east of the Cape Verdes, and Angola to the south. They, too, presumably would try to intercept the Santa Maria.

Portugal feared the rebel band led by Capt. Henrique Galvao might attempt to seize one or more of these territories and launch a rebellion against Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar. If Galvao did so he would have more than 900 hostages — 600 passengers, including 26 Americans, and 360 crew members.

The Navy pointed out its search had covered 2,200,000 square miles and said the ship probably could have been located sooner if a hostile ship had been involved since far more planes and ships would

$30,000 Blaze Guts House In Mill Valley

Fire whipped through the three-story, red-shingled home of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew P. Dillingham at 3 Rose Avenue, Mill Valley, yesterday afternoon, with damage exceeding $30,000. No one was at home at the time.

Origin of the fire, which left the house a shell, is unknown, but it is believed to have started either in the study or a bedroom, said Fire Chief Leslie Armager.

PARAKEETS DIE

The Dillinghams' five parakeets perished in the blaze. A horse belonging to the Dillingham's daughter, Judy, was safe at its stables on the hill behind the eight-room, two-bath home.

The house was built about 1911 by Dillingham's grandfather, Frank Dillingham, for use as a summer home. Frank Dillingham was in the Consular Service and served in Germany, New Zealand and Canada. The home had been remodeled several times, most recently three years ago.

The Dillingham's youngsters, Reed and Judy, were at classes in Tamalpais High School when the fire was discovered at 2:42 p.m. by a neighbor, Mrs. Robert Geering of 177 Hazel Street, who telephoned firemen. She said she heard glass breaking and then saw flames from the roof of the house.

WIFE SHOPPING

Mrs. Dillingham, shopping in Mill Valley, reached home with her dog, Dukha, to see fire shooting up through the house into the redwood trees. On the verge of tears, she said "Oh, to lose everything. . . . If you knew how hard we worked on that house!"

Dillingham, a manufacturers' agent for Trask and Squier in San Francisco, was at work. He said today that the house, with furnishings, would exceed $30,000 to replace.

The Dillinghams stayed last night with neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Earl D. Baldwin of Dots Lane.

Light Rainfall Pelts County

A light rain—not much more than a drizzle—started falling on Marin County this morning. The Weather Bureau forecast heavier rain today and tonight as a storm moves in from the sea.

Early measurements in Woodacre and San Rafael had recorded .14 of a inch in Woodacre and .12 inches in San Rafael up to noon today.

The sprinkle started about 8:30 a.m. in Mill Valley and about 11 a.m. in Novato, Sausalito and Belvedere. It was too early for any measurements in those cities.

The Weather Man says the rain should end tonight with partly cloudy skies forecast for tomorrow.

Revolt Reported In El Salvador

GUATEMALA CITY (UPI)—The El Salvador army has toppled the government and established a military junta, it was reported here today.

Official dispatches to the Guatemalan govenment from the border town of Ahuchapan said the Salvadorean army had revolted early today "to halt leftist excesses" of the junta which seized power there last Oct. 26.

RELAXING EISENHOWER HUNTS BIRDS

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower holds his gun on the ready and his hunting dog is on point as they take to the field to hunt birds at Blue Springs Plantation near Albany, Ga. Although Eisenhower wasn't entirely pleased with his shooting, in spite of a full bay of quail, he was happy at not having his former cares. (AP wirephoto)

Part Of Marinship Plan Is Adopted

The Sausalito City Council adopted portions of the Marinship master plan, regarding circulation, last night and then decided to hold an adjourned meeting next Tuesday night to discuss Marinship zoning.

It will be the third meeting this month on Marinship and the council's fourth meeting. Normally the council meets twice a month.

The council voted 4-0, George E. Keeney absent, to adopt: (1). A north-south road going roughly along the spur of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad from north to south as shown on the master plan prepared by consultant Frederick H. Allen, (2). A plan for harbor boulevard which will serve the Clipper yacht marina development and the Rischmuller-Johnson apartments; (3). An east-west road running along the northern edge of the industrial center building and ending at Clipper yacht harbor; (4). A parallel east-west road at the northern edge of the industrial center building; (5). A frontage road to extend south from the main east-west road to Spring Street, paralleling Bridgeway and adjacent to the main Northwestern Pacific railroad tracks, and (6). an east-west road connecting the frontage road with the proposed Heath development on the waterfront, running along the northern edge of the Lando property.

The North-South road was discussed at length, with several property owners saying it would ruin their properties at the northern end of Marinship. Fred Fidler, owner of the Mart building, said "if rapid transit goes in front and you put in a road (the north-south) behind, I would have enough room left for your bus station — your pagoda." (He referred to the proposed Bridgeway bus shelter.)

Other property owners said the present gate 5 road could be used as part of the north-south road.

The council was unanimous in fighting for the north-south road as being essential to the plan, but agreed that it could vary from the line in which Allen had drawn it.

70 Novatans Due Planning Assignments

More than 70 Novato residents will be appointed this week to citizen study committees which will aid in formulating a master plan for the city.

City councilmen last night authorized Mayor Wayne Womack to make the appointments to eight committees which will work with the city planning commission in a series of study sessions to begin Feb. 1. Councilmen had agreed on placement of nearly all citizen volunteers on the committees during an executive session.

The place of the first planning meeting is still undecided; it probably will be one of the schools in the city as the city hall is not large enough to hold members of all the committees, all of whom will be asked to attend the first session.

Committees will study city planning under eight headings: Commercial, industrial, parks and recreation, beautification, streets and highways, residential density, public facilities and institutional uses, and annexation policy.

Councilmen agreed to the hiring of Mrs. William L. Davidson, 1427 Dawes Street, Novato, as part-time clerk-typist to work with the planning committees and in the city hall. The appointment will extend to Feb. 28.

In other business last night, the Novato Council:

1. Agreed to consider an ordinance which would prevent indiscriminate development of small subdivisions without proper improvements. A subdivision, by legal definition in the city, is four or more lots.
2. Granted a six-month extension to Marin Golf and Country Club Estates to install improvements.
3. Asked City Administrator J. Julien Baget for a report on a possible tree removal policy after three citizens asked removal of trees for what Baget called "inconvenience" reasons, rather than because of hazard.
4. Decided to discuss possible membership in the Assn. of Bay Area Governments at the next meeting, Feb. 14. Cost would be $138 yearly. Mayor Wayne Womack favored joining, and councilman M. E. (Babe) Silva was against, as stated informally last night. Other councilmen made no direct statement.
5. Introduced an amendment to the taxicab ordinance which would make the $100 yearly fee for operators pro-rated by quarters, depending on when the license was first purchased.
6. Agreed to purchase an electric typewriter for city hall use at approximately $425 and agreed to consider purchase of one for the police department.
7. Agreed to continuation of auditing services of Halvor D. Klinker, San Rafael, to the end of the fiscal year, for up to 35 hours at up to $280.
8. Voted to replace 151 dead and stolen plants in street parkways in Monte Maria at probable cost of $150. Councilmen noted that the landscaping fund taken over by the city from the Monte Maria Community Services District is being steadily eaten away by a series of plant replacements. There is now $911 in the fund.

NO HIGHWAY DECISION

Rice's Building Plan Delayed For Month

J. B. Rice, whose building on Francisco Boulevard in San Rafael burned to the ground last August, will have to wait at least until Feb. 14 before he gets a permit for a new structure.

Rice said he is willing to wait until next month, but hopes city council decides then whether the proposed new state highway will go through the burned-out site at 428 Francisco Boulevard. One of the state's freeway plans would gobble up most of the site, but the San Rafael City Council must act before that plan is adopted.

As long as the highway plan remains undecided, the entire length from San Quentin Wye to Puerto Suello Hill is left "up in the air," Rice told the San Rafael Planning Commission last night.

The planning commission postponed action on Rice's new building because his plan showed only 50 parking spaces, whereas 92 spaces are required. Commissioners asked Rice to work out the parking problem and announced they would ask the city fathers to expedite action on freeway route.

In other actions last night, the city planners:

1. Approved a brake and wheel aligning shop at 4208 Redwood Highway, in the Commonwealth Light Industrial Subdivision north of Marin Professional Center.
2. Gave Jack Farrar permission to put in detached garages on the front one-half of three lots in Scenic Heights Subdivision, off Fifth Avenue. Farrar is putting in duplexes there.

Turned down a three-lot subdivision at Fairhills Drive and Oakmont Avenue. Lloyd Grandi proposed a private easement off Oakmont as access to the three lots. Planning commissioners said they want a standard street with curbs, gutters and sewer laterals, instead of just a private easement.

4. Gave architectural approval of a storage and office building on Irwin Street for Carl Rickards.
5. Granted an illuminated sign, 4 by 8 feet, for Henry Swift Co., 1029 C Street. The sign will be located on top of the building.
6. Granted Charles Parmelee permission to build a boat repair building at the Loch Lomond Marina.
7. Approved a wooden sign 8 by 12 feet to advertise "Marin Marina" north of Canal Street and east of Bellam Boulevard.
8. Granted Louis Pareto a two-lot subdivision at 240 Woodland Avenue on condition he split the 96-foot frontage into two equal parts, with each lot about 5,000 feet square.
9. Approved a frame and stucco warehouse building at Louise and Belvedere Streets for contractor Paul Bysell, on condition he landscape the area and put in sidewalks on both street frontages. Bysell said it would be used for offices and storage.

Novato Schools May Purchase New Site

Trustees of the Novato Unified School District last night indicated they would consider purchasing an elementary school site which might cost $145,000 for development.

The actual cost of the 14 acres being considered — of which 9.2 acres would be usable—was not discussed in detail, but San Rafael attorney Phillip Kennedy indicated that one offer for the land had hit $6,500 an acre.

Kennedy is the representative of developers of Novato Hills, in which most of the proposed site is located. Trustees last night authorized a further survey of the site, which preliminary figures show cost $95,000 for grading, plus $50,000 for street development, in addition to land cost and possible severance damages.

The area is off the end of Rowland Drive and would necessitate redrawing of road plans to move the drive further north and west around the site, if school purchase goes through, Supt. W. J. J. Smith reported.

The acreage would be used for an elementary school through sixth grade to serve the area south of the high school. Funds for the purchase would come from state loan and a bond issue approved by voters last October.

The land cost would be "comparable" to the price of a site adjacent to the high school which had been considered for some time by trustees, Smith said. If the latter were used, it would mean use of some land from the high school site which might be needed for the high school in the future, he said.

Trustees considered four possible sites last night. Estimates of grading costs on them ranged from $54,175 to $775,000.

Trustees authorized sale of $317,000 in bonds on the high school side of the ledger and about $60,000 on the elementary school side. The sale would bring the district up to bonding capacity and make it eligible to collect the state loan approved by voters.

The six-room high school addition planned is expected to cost $124,400.

The board discussed teacher salaries in relation to expected income with representatives of the Novato Teachers Assn. who have asked for pay hike for the coming school year.

They set polling places for the April 18 school district election at the high school, Hill, West Novato, Marion and Olive Schools. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Hospital Unit Appoints Officers

Dr. Wilson P. Goddard was re-elected president of the Marin County Hospital District board last night.

Charles Rowe was elected vice president and Mrs. Marion C. Ibach was re-elected secretary. The board appointed its new administrator, William W. Turner, treasurer, and reappointed Walter J. Jacobs assistant treasurer.

Turner, formerly assistant administrator of a Long Beach hospital, made his first report to the board last night. Outgoing Administrator S. Ames Pence is now assisting Turner in becoming familiar with his duties at the hospital.

The hospital's surgical floor had 95 per cent of capacity occupancy last month, and the medical floor 92 per cent of capacity, the board was told. There were 153 babies born during the month.

Net revenue from July 1, 1960-Dec. 31, 1960, totaled $21,392, according to a financial statement. Expenses for the same period totaled $935,152.

Trash Dump Approval Given By Planners

San Rafael's first official trash dump won unanimous approval of the planning commission last night.

Developer Robert Parnow asked for a trash dump 100 feet wide and 650 feet deep on tidelands north of San Quentin Road, directly opposite Sir Francis Drake Boulevard East.

On motion by Charles Hendrickson and second by Mrs. May Zappetini, the planning commission gave Parnow a one-year use permit for the dump, on condition that Parnow get city engineer's approval on details of the operation such as fill and cover. The use permit is subject to renewal after one year.

Until last year, San Rafael did not allow trash dumps at all within the city limits. This was changed with an amendment of city ordinance.

In the past, tree trimmings and stumps were dumped in the tidelands as part of a landfilling operation. But this was difficult to control. City officials decided that city laws should be changed to allow trash dumps in specified areas.

San Rafael Education Board Appoints Summer Principal

Ralph Hanson, director of instruction for the San Rafael High School District, was named principal of summer sessions for San Rafael grade and high school students last night by the San Rafael Board of Education.

Four-week sessions will be held for grade school students and a six-week session for high school students, probably in San Rafael High School.

The board pointed out both sessions will meet graduation requirements for the students.

The board is contemplating using one school bus to provide summer session transportation. Cost of operating the bus would be paid by parents of children attending the session.

The trustees accepted the low bid by Mario Bottini and Son of San Rafael for fill to be used at the Laura Dell Intermediate School site. Bottini's bid was 86 cents per truck yard, the lowest from five companies. Approximately 3,300 to 3,600 truck yards are needed to fill the site.

Supt. Frank L. Lucas and C. Paul Bettini, chairman of the board of trustees, will meet with officials of San Quentin School soon to discuss annexation of the school into the district July 1.

In other business last night, the board:

1. Reviewed landscaping preliminary plans by architect Carl I. Gromme for Terra Linda High School, noting the cost of the landscaping will be $32,500. Additional drainage, at a cost of seven or eight hundred dollars, is not included in the estimate.
2. Scheduled Monday, at 7:30 p.m. for the committee of the whole to review the preliminary budget.
3. Granted a request by the San Rafael Military Academy to use San Rafael High School's track, hurdles, and high-jumping and pole-vaulting equipment if dates do not conflict with use by schools in the district.
4. Voted to continue the agreement with the San Francisco State College to provide for placement of San Francisco State College student teachers in the San Rafael school system for the fall semester, 1961-62.
5. Entered a new agreement with the county schools office for providing facilities for mentally retarded and hard-of-hearing classes. The charge of $900 per year was changed to $1,200 per year for facilities, utilities and janitorial costs.
6. Granted maternity leaves to Mrs. Beverly Wormuth, teacher at Gallinas School, and Mrs. Barbara Gillespie, teacher at West End School, for the second semester.
7. Approved warrants totaling $5,382.06 for elementary schools and $98,148.03 for high schools in the district.
8. Refused request by Dorothy O'Conner, teacher at Gallinas School, to take Feb. 24 off from work to be bridesmaid in wedding in South Dakota.

Two Injured In Highway 101 Accidents

An automobile driver and a passenger were hurt in two separate Highway 101 car pileups involving seven cars during yesterday morning's southbound rush period in heavy fog. One of the mishaps led to the other.

Two cars and a truck were involved in the first at 7:30 a.m. opposite Marin City. A truck driven by George Carl Nagy, Santa Rosa winery employee, hit a stopped car driven by James Warden Knight of 212 Frustuck Avenue, Fairfax, a Golden Gate Bridge painter. Gerald A. Cuff of 112 Walnut Avenue, Corte Madera, passenger with Knight, reported he was hurt but asked no treatment. The Knight car in turn hit one ahead driven by Macio Joseph Crespo of 46 Birch Avenue, San Rafael, an automobile shop owner.

Traffic backed up northward behind this "rearender" and 15 minutes later, at 7:45 a.m., this led to a somewhat similar chain crash involving four cars.

Driving in the "fast lane," Lawrence L. Freeberg, 52 Loma Linda Avenue, Ross, car rental operator, stopped sharply because cars had halted ahead. Henry Hale of 647 Lindaro Street, San Rafael, told investigators he'd been in the middle lane but pulled over to the fast lane to pass. His car struck that of Freeberg and was hit in turn by one driven by Alfred Joseph Ruggiero, 50 Via La Cumbre, San Rafael, a factory superintendent. The Ruggiero car was in turn hit by one driven by John Terrance Purcell, 141 Vista Grande, San Rafael, construction superintendent.

Hale was cited for an unsafe lane change. He reported he was injured but asked no medical attention.

Shells On Display

The Novato Branch of the Marin County Library is showing a shell collection given to the library by a former resident, M/Sgt. Kenneth Crews. The collection includes a wide variety of shells collected on the island of Kawai in the Hawaiian Islands, by Henry M. Kurisu, who classified them.

No-Parking Plans Started In Sausalito

The Sausalito City Council last night introduced an ordinance to outlaw parking on Rodeo and Woodward Avenues and Sausalito Boulevard until they are widened to permit passage of fire equipment.

It also added to the city's "fire map" Hecht Avenue and a portion of Wolf Back Ridge known as Cloud View Trail. No building permit will be issued on these streets until they meet requirements of Fire Chief Mathew J. (Matts) Perry.

The council directed city manager Charles A. Brown to send letters inviting owners of properties on the streets to the Feb. 7 council meeting to discuss the problem.

Brown said Perry is making a study of all major residential structures in town to be sure that fire codes are being adhered to. This move was initiated by Perry as a result of two recent San Francisco fires.

The council also:

1. Directed Brown to make a study on how to provide the planning commission with secretarial assistance without adding additional personnel. He is to report Feb. 7.
2. Received a verbal promise from developer Morden Dunn that, in the future, homes built by him in the vicinity of Bayside School will each be of an "individual style."
3. Set up a committee consisting of councilmen Marjorie Brady and Howard Sievers, Mrs. James E. Laidlaw and Mrs. Walter H. Washbourne to work with architect Charles Finney on the proposed Bridgeway bus shelter. Finney was appointed architect for the job and $300 was allotted to take care of his plans up to awarding of the contract.
4. Set up a committee of councilmen Michael Harris and Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. to review with William Wachter, Alta Mira Hotel owner, his proposed expansion to add 150 dining spaces to the hotel.
5. Asked city atty. John B. Ehlen to check into a request of the Sausalito Cruising Club for a 10-year lease of city-owned space on Johnson Street in return for destroying the sunken ship, Lassen.
6. Appointed councilman Brady as committee official on the League of California Cities sister cities program.
7. Approved contribution of $250 to the Richardson Bay Recreation Committee for its youth program.
8. Heard a financial report from Brown in which he said receipts for the month were $93,800 and for the first half of the fiscal year $240,000. The latter figure compares with $210,000 for the same period last year. Expenditures for the first half of the fiscal year totaled $156,000, considerably less than the $216,000 spent in the same period last year. This is due to street improvements starting later this year, land purchases coming later and no waterfront expenditures, he said.

Councilman George E. Keeney was absent.

Shelter Cove Vote Request Held Illegal

Sausalito City Atty. John B. Ehlen told the city council last night that the request of 634 Sausalito residents Jan. 3 for a referendum vote on city purchase of Shelter Cove lots was not legal.

Ehlen said: "Only purely legislative acts are subject to referendum . . . the council's resolution to buy the lots was administrative."

Ehlen had given the same opinion to the council verbally Jan. 3.

Ehlen said he has been reviewing resolutions adopted by the city council over the years and that the city's policy to acquire tideland and submerged lots along its waterfront south of the Purity store to the Shelter Cove property has been in existence for at least 20 years.

He said the government code provides that the city council may "in its discretion" expend the ordinary annual city income to acquire parks and playgrounds, including, of course, acquatic parks. The statute places discretion of making such purchase in the council, he said.

He noted also that in last year's election of councilmen, two candidates who openly advocated the Shelter Cove purchase were elected.

Six More Apartment Units Given Planners' Approval

Six more apartment units will be allowed at the fork of San Pedro Road and Mooring Road in San Rafael, city planning commissioners decided last night.

Architect Rolland Hammond, representing owner Rose Cohn, asked for eight units to add to the eight already built on the south side of San Pedro Road next to Lowrie's Yacht Harbor. Eight more units would have brought the density to 2,670 square feet per unit.

"This is one of the best sites in San Rafael," said Commissioner Charles Hendrickson, "I can't see ruining it by overcrowding."

The planners rejected the request for eight units but accepted six units, with the suggestion that the building length be cut down to give more open space for landscaping.

Commissioner Orlando Conti said he would like to see landscaping on the San Pedro Road side to screen the parking area.

Novato Business Tax Notices Due

Persons doing business in Novato will begin receiving mailed notices this week that payment of a newly instituted business tax is about due.

Forms are being mailed by the city and may be filled out and returned by mail or in person.

The first payment will be figured up to July 1, when yearly figures will begin to be used to coincide with fiscal years. The general rate for Novato merchants is $25 a business, plus $2 for each employe over the first one. Some city and out-of-city businesses have special rates.

Felon Switches Plea In Prison Slaying

The murder trial of San Quentin convict Alvin Vernon Marshall, 25, suddenly ended in a voluntary conviction today when the convict switched his plea to guilty in Marin Superior Court.

The switch in plea came during the second day of the trial, while jurors were still being picked before Judge N. Charles Brusatori.

Judge Brusatori set Feb. 14 as the date of judgment. Marshall, who is serving a term of five years to life for robbery and felony assault, faces an additional sentence of one to 10 years.

Last July 8, Marshall fatally stabbed another prison inmate, Paul Lujan, 23, who was serving time for assault with a deadly weapon. He admitted the stabbing but claimed self defense.

A murder conviction could have brought the death penalty for Marshall. This morning, after conferring with his attorney, Public Defender Peter Alden Smith, Marshall decided to plead guilty to voluntary manslaughter.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety said he discussed the matter with the warden of San Quentin Prison, and they decided the manslaughter plea would be a practical and just result. Garety explained he and the warden considered these circumstances: The two men had fought the day before the fatal stabbing, and the victim also had a knife at the time of slaying.

BUDGET

in the present fiscal year and has actually lagged behind expenditures. In view of that, Brown said he expects the state surplus—129.3 million dollars on June 30, 1960—to shrink to 32.5 million by June 30, 1961.

By June 30, 1962, only $468,000 is expected to remain in reserves.

In unusually blunt language, Brown said he intends to see to it that the budget he signs also will be balanced. It's usually fattened up by the legislature before reaching the governor's desk.

"If I must use my power of item veto, I will do so," he said. He has the power to delete any specific item.

The governor disclosed he used a new approach in putting together this budget.

"An allocations system was devised," he said, "to help stretch our limited fiscal resources over the whole expanding framework of state government, and its services to an exploding population."

Instead of asking each department how much it wanted in 1961-62, the Finance Department told them how much was available. Then tentative allocations were made on the basis of experience.

Finance Director John Carr estimated the new system saved 100 million dollars.

More than half of the proposed expenditures are for state assistance to local government — chiefly subventions for school support and welfare.

The budget carries 1.04 billion dollars for all levels of education, an increase of 58.6 million over 1960-61. State-supported schools are expected to have 209,000 more students next year.

The governor asked for 223.1 million dollars for social welfare, an increase of 27.1 million.

The jump is due to unemployment and Brown's proposed new programs for the needy and disabled. More money for the aged, blind, children and disabled will cost the general fund 11.4 million dollars alone.

The state building program comes to 422.3 million dollars, including highways.

Of that amount, 48 million is sought to provide for 4,400 additional students at the University of California, and 40 million to take care of 8,000 more students at state colleges.

There's 8.1 million dollars for beaches and parks, two million to build new facilities for the mentally retarded, with 3.2 million for the start of a new 400-bed Northern California Youth Center at Stockton.

Corte Madera Sale Of Land Planned

A parcel of "excess" vacant land at the Corte Madera interchange, owned by the State Division of Highways, will go on the auction block at 11 a.m. tomorrow on the property.

The state had indicated it will start the bidding at $12,500. The property is slightly more than one acre in size.

The town of Corte Madera is not expected to bid on the land, although it once expressed interest in buying it. The property is zoned as a low density one-family residential district. Preliminary plans of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District call for a road through the property.

ANNEX

mile long, between city boundaries and property proposed to be annexed. If the Schwartz property is approved for annexation, the distance would meet legal standards, Palmer said.

Andrew B. Talbot of San Francisco said today the acreage he and his associates control would be developed to include 1,000 to 1,400 lots fronting on Petaluma Creek, selling for $7,000 to $10,000 per lot of about 7,500 square feet.

But first will come development of larger ridgetop lots in the area, he said. Plans call for sale of lots, not housing construction by his company, he said.

"We want to preserve the natural beauty of the site—as little grading and cutting as possible—fit the road net into the terrain," he added. Access to the area would be by Atherton Avenue and Bugeia Lane.

The Novato Horsemen's grounds, almost surrounded by the Talbot property, was not included in last night's annexation request.

The Talbot property is the former Mahoney Family property of about 600 acres owned by the Novato Land Co. and the former Bugeia Ranch of about 500 acres owned by the North Marin Land Co. In addition, the non-profit cemetery corporation has sold about 94 acres.

The request for incorporation was decided on because the area "logically belongs in Novato," Talbot said.

The city now consists of about 15 square miles with almost 18,000 population in very irregular boundaries.

Talbot plans to ask for "planned community" zoning for the residential development, under which the city would have close control of land layout and content.

The first request for development may go before the county planning commission, later going to the city if incorporation is approved, Talbot said. Provision will be made for at least one school, churches, shopping center and other faciliites, he reported.

Backers of the Novato Land Co., and North Marin Land Co. include Maurice Baldwin of Novato; Joseph Marshall of Belvedere, and William Evers of San Francisco.

The area will be developed by the Bahia Del Norte Co. of San Francisco, with Talbot as president.

Bigger Labor Force

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The State Chamber of Commerce predicts that California's civilian labor force will increase by 3.6 per cent this year over 1960. The number of workers would be 6,265,000.

Purity Store In Mill Valley Opens Again

Mill Valley's Purity Store, closed for almost two weeks for a major face lifting, reopened at 9 a.m. today.

Among new installations in the store, according to manager Urban Blake, is a customer service booth where shoppers may buy money orders, cash payroll checks, buy and leave film for processing, return empty bottles for refund and purchase cigarettes.

Another new feature is a coffee bar where customers may relax over coffee and doughnuts, Blake said.

Also added is a Lady Baltimore bakery which will offer a full selection of cakes, pies, cookies, rolls, bread and pastries.

Major structural work, including the sinking of pilings down to bedrock inside the store wall line, was begun before the store closed on Jan. 14. The entire face lifting job was estimated by Blake to cost in the neighborhood of one million dollars.

In the "new" store, Blake said, the aisles are wider, the capacity of the frozen food cases have been increased, new wall shelving and grocery gondolas have been installed, making room for several hundred additional items not previously carried because of lack of space.

New lighting was also installed in the meat department, the parking lot was resurfaced and redesigned, a new vinyl floor was laid and the store was painted throughout.

Business Office In Larkspur Put Back In Condition

Larkspur City Hall business office closed today to permit cleaning, painting and installing an asphalt tile floor.

The office will remain closed until Monday, although a clerk will be on duty in the police department office to answer phones.

City employees are doing the cleanup and repair work voluntarily, on their own time.

The police department is scheduled to move into a larger quarters at the rear of the business office, probably next week. The new quarters also will be painted and given a new flooring this week.

Dixie Trustees To Hear Report

A report on financing of a five-year building program for the Dixie School District — which may run three to four million dollars—will be made to the board of trustees tonight by an 18-member citizen committee.

The board meets at 8 p. m. in the district office at 4775 Redwood Highway, Terra Linda.

Trustees appointed the committee and its chairman, John Starkweather of 612 Las Colindas Road, Terra Linda, last October to recommend whether to seek a state loan, how big such a loan should be, and when an authorization election should be held.

Japan Missionary To Describe Work

A missionary to Japan will describe his field of operation in a keynote speech for the first Missionary Day of the new semester at Golden Gate Seminary in Strawberry, at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow.

Dr. Theron V. Farris of Sapporo, Japan, where he is a Southern Baptist missionary, will describe a proposed 1963 Tokyo missionary crusade led by Dr. Billy Graham and to use radio and television, said to be unprecedented in evangelistic missionary enterprise.

Blaze Ruins Marin Man's Buildings

A $72,000 fire yesterday gutted a tavern and auto parts building near Santa Rosa owned by Louis Hozz of 10 Evergreen Drive, Kent Woodlands.

Hozz, who moved to Marin County a year ago after selling his chicken feed mill in Petaluma, had purchased the building within the last two months.

Flames broke out in the auto parts store about 5:30 a.m. and quickly spread to the tavern.

The building is located almost two miles south of Santa Rosa on the Old Santa Rosa Highway east of Highway 101.

Five fire engine companies battled the blaze for over an hour before it was extinguished. Cause was undetermined.

Landmark Society Meeting Tonight

Directors of the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmark Society will meet tonight at 8 o'clock at the home of its vice president Thomas K. Procter, 10 Crest Road, Belvedere.

Restoration chairman William H. V. Brooke and Procter will give a progress report on the preservation of Old St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon. Plans will be made for the annual meeting in March, said Mrs. Robert Bastian, president.

The 10 cathedral windows in the church are now restored in honor or memory of local residents, Mrs. Bastian said. Those so honored are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Y. Dakin, Mrs. Loretta Creighton, Mrs. Claudine Anderson, Beth Armstrong, May Howard Bridge, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bradley, Walter Nash, Joseph Britton, Charles De Tomasi and the parents of Belvedere city manager Britton Rey.

Colonel Appeals Poaching Decision

Reserve Air Force Col. James B. Morehead, 44, of Petaluma, convicted of poaching on the Silveira Ranch last September, today appealed the decision to the appellate department of Marin Superior Court.

A time will be fixed for his first court appearance in the higher court to argue for a reversal of the conviction.

Acting as his own lawyer, Morehead was convicted by a jury on Jan. 9 of trespassing and violations of the Fish and Game Code. Maximum sentence for the crimes is three years in jail and/or $3,000 fine.

SHIP

have been thrown into the search.

The Destroyers Vogelgesang and Gearing were proceeding from Abidjan in the hope of effecting an interception.

The Navy said careful checking of a sighting by the Danish merchant ship Vibeke Gulwa, plus radio "fixes," established the location of the pirate ship.

In another development, the State Department said it was not clear whether "piracy" was actually involved in seizure of the Santa Maria.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said in a statement read to reporters:

"The facts concerning the seizure are not entirely clear. Information available to the department is not sufficiently detailed to form the basis of a firm opinion whether the crime of piracy under international law has been committed."

White said, however, that there were "grounds for a suspicion of piracy." This was enough, he said, to justify the U.S. acceding to the Portuguese government's request that U.S. naval authorities locate the vessel and "make an appropriate investigation."

The U.S. destroyer R. L. Wilson was reported in hot pursuit of the Santa Maria but was 500 miles behind and the Navy said it probably could not overcome this lead.

A Navy announcement said the Santa Maria was on a course which "if continued" would take her south of the Cape Verde Islands and to the coast of Liberá.

The Navy said the ship was "not cornered" and that if she should reach the territorial waters of another country—within the three-mile limit—its fate would be up to the other nation.

As a matter of normal procedure, a shot probably will be fired across the Santa Maria's bow if and when she is overtaken.

Civil Defense Clinic

The Marinwood Assn. will consider formation of a civil defense training clinic at the group's meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the Mary Silveira School, announced Tom Elliott, president.

OBITUARIES

Rail Veteran W. L. Howe Dies At 75

Walter Leslie Howe, 75, old-time Marin County railroader, died in his sleep last night in a San Francisco hospital after a brief illness.

Howe resided at 11 Scenic Avenue, San Rafael.

He was the last surviving member of the first Northwestern Pacific Railroad train crew to pilot a train to Eureka after the driving of the road's "golden spike" at Cain Rock in 1914.

He was born in New Orleans, La., Feb. 1, 1885, while his father was director of the Western Union exhibit at the Louisiana Exposition. He was brought to Marin County in infancy and in early 1906 "hired out" as brakeman with the North Shore Railroad in Sausalito.

After the 1906 earthquake he pumped a daily round trip by handcar from Point Reyes Station to Marsball to deliver the mail while regular rail service was at a standstill. He also worked on construction trains repairing damage over White's Hill and along Tomales Bay.

He married in 1923 a girl he met at the narrow gauge depot at Occidental, Olive Chick, postmaster of the town. In 1930 he was a member of the last crew to operate a regular train from Occidental to Point Reyes Station.

Later, in Northwestern Pacific service, he was to be known as "Shorty" to commuters and children aboard Tamalpais High School trains.

He was a member of the crew of the last passenger train to operate in NWP Russian River service. He was a 52-year member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and a long-time member of Elks Lodge 1108 of San Rafael.

Howe is survived by his wife; a son, Donald of San Rafael, and a daughter, Mrs. Marie Klaver of New York City.

Funeral services, conducted by the Elks Lodge, will be at 1 p.m. tomorrow at Harry M. Williams Mortuary. Interment will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

VERA ST. CLAIR

Funeral services for Mrs. Vera V. St. Clair, 56, sister of Albert Morani of Fairfax and Mrs. Catherine Rasonsky of San Rafael, were held yesterday in Petaluma.

Mrs. St. Clair died Saturday in a San Francisco hospital. She had been ill for many years.

Mrs. St. Clair was born in Chicago, and lived in Petaluma for about 10 years before moving to San Francisco.

She is also survived by a daughter, Mrs. Bertha Loskutov of San Francisco and two sons, George and Robert of San Francisco. She was the sister of Celio Morani and Frank Morani, Petaluma; Louis Morani, San Francisco; and Dario and Caesar Morani, Wisconsin.

BERTHA ROTHWELL

Mrs. Bertha Stedman Rothwell, born in Lagunitas, March 9, 1880, died yesterday in a San Francisco hospital after surgery and long illness.

Mrs. Stedman was born on the property which is now Samuel P. Taylor State Park. Her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Stephen S. Stedman, came to Lagunitas in 1857.

She moved to San Francisco about 1900. During the fire and earthquake of 1906, her family had to move their belongings from their home on Eureka Street to Twin Peaks to escape damage.

She had been active in the aid of schools for handicapped children and during the 1920s helped lobby for handicapped school legislation in Sacramento.

In a letter sent a friend before her operation, Mrs. Rothwell said: "My watchword has always been that every individual owes something of his time and ability to improve conditions in his immediate community as well as elsewhere. Child welfare has been my biggest field of endeavor."

She was a past regent of Daughters of the American Revolution, San Francisco chapter, and a member of Marin County Historical Society and California Heritage Council.

She is survived by her husband, Horace Chester Rothwell, a retired accountant for International Paint Co. in South San Francisco; a daughter, Mrs. Bertha May of San Francisco; a son, Herbert L. Rothwell of San Carlos; three sisters, Mrs. Julia A. Sturtevant of South San Francisco, Mrs. Margaret H. McDonald of Daly City and Mrs. Edna B. Davenport of Santa Barbara.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. at Halsted and Co., San Francisco. Interment will be in Cypress Lawn Memorial Park, Colma.

RUTH WEINROB

Mrs. Ruth Weinrob, 34-year-old mother of two, was found dead at her Woodacre home yesterday afternoon.

Deputy Coroner Charles Monte said she died from cirrhosis of the liver.

She is survived by her husband, Sam, who drives a taxi in San Francisco, and two daughters, Diana, 13, and Marsha, 10. The girls found Mrs. Weinrob dead when they came home from school yesterday.

The body was taken to Chapel of the Hills in San Anselmo and will be transferred to Sinai Memorial Chapel in San Francisco for funeral arrangements.

Kennedy Message May Be Somber

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy was reported today to be preparing a somber recital of world and domestic conditions in a State of the Union message he will deliver to Congress Monday.

Associates said the president feels Congress and the country should be given what he regards as a realistic appraisal of turbulent global conditions and a hesitating economy at home.

Democratic leaders with whom Kennedy discussed the message at a White House conference yesterday said they expect him to cover the Congo, Laos and other world trouble spots and to discuss mounting unemployment at home.

They anticipate Kennedy will follow this up with a series of messages outlining specific legislative proposals and suggesting changes in the 80.9-billion-dollar budget former President Dwight D. Eisenhower sent Congress Jan. 16.

An economic message will deal broadly with business conditions and might suggest some tax changes. If it is not included in this, a separate message may recommend early action on a measure to aid depressed areas of chronic unemployment. It was believed possible the president might link this with a request for funds to bolster unemployment compensation payments.

Without even waiting for Kennedy to lay down his proposals, congressional Republicans organized their Senate and House forces for a "battle of the budget." Senate Minority leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois predicted it will be the overriding issue in the 1961 session.

Dirksen and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, the House minority leader, agreed to meet weekly with four colleagues from each house to map Republican strategy.

Dirksen indicated that Eisenhower will be called on for advice when Kennedy suggests changes in the defense budget the former president submitted. He said former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, and others will be called in when issues come up with which they are familiar. Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, the Republican national chairman, will serve the conference as its presiding officer.

Kennedy Picks Woman Doctor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. Janet G. Travell, a silver-haired doctor considered a medical "genius" by President John F. Kennedy, has been chosen White House physician—the first woman ever to hold the post.

Dr. Travell's appointment as official guardian of Kennedy's health was expected to be announced soon. She will be the first civilian White House doctor since the Harding administration, breaking a long line of military physicians.

Kennedy credits the robust Dr. Travell with being largely responsible for curing the back ailment which plagued him for years and put him on crutches at one point.

Dr. Travell, an expert in treating athletic injuries, will give up her practice in New York City, started in 1926, to become White House physician. She will be assisted in her new post by a military doctor, who has not yet been named.

TAX CHIEF—Mortimer Caplin, 44, a university of Virginia Law School professor on taxation, has been named by President John F. Kennedy as the nation's top tax collector. He will be commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service, replacing Dana Latham. (AP Wirephoto)

Marilyn Gets Her Divorce

JUAREZ, Mexico (UPI) — Marilyn Monroe received a divorce from playwright Arthur Miller in a Mexican court yesterday.

The divorce was granted in first civil court here. The 33-year-old movie star flew to El Paso, Tex., across the border from Juarez, last Friday night, filed for divorce from the 44-year-old Miller on the ground of "incompatibility of character" and returned to New York the same night.

Miss Monroe's lawyer, Arturo Sosa Augilar, said Miller signed a waiver and reached a property agreement with her before she went to Juarez.

Miller, who won the Pulitzer prize for his play, "Death of a Salesman," is reported seeking reconciliation with his first wife, who is the mother of his two children.

'ARAB INTERFERENCE'

U.N. Due To Debate New Congo Complaint

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —The U.N. Security Council faces a new Congo debate on a charge by President Joseph Kasavubu that the United Arab Republic is interfering in the Congo's internal affairs.

The debate, however, may not come until February.

Kasavubu cabled what he called an urgent complaint yesterday to the Security Council president for January—Omar Loutfi of the U.A.R.—without stating what the intervention was. Diplomats assume he will charge that the U.A.R. is supporting rebel forces in Oriental and Kivu provinces who back imprisoned ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Kasavubu asked Loutfi to consult his U.N. delegation before setting the debate date "in view of the convovcation of the Congolese round-table conference." Preliminary meetings of this conference of opposing political leaders were to start in Leojoldville today. The conference is to convene in Elisabethville next month.

Diplomats speculated Kasavubu hedged on the date to insure that the U.A.R. delegate would not be in the chair during the debate. Loutfi will be succeeded by Sir Patrick Dean of Britain Feb. 1.

Loutfi has delayed calling a council meeting although President Modibo Keita of Mali cabled Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold Thursday with a request that the council consider the Congo situation further and that the United Nations put Lumumba back in office.

Hammarskjold said yesterday he had informed Congolese politicians he feels a political settlement in the Congo is impossible without the participation of Lumumba. He suggested the ex-premier be released from the Katanga Province prison to which he was transferred a week ago and be returned to Leopoldville.

Lumumbist trops were reported yesterday to have invaded Equator Province, which is Kasavubu's territory.

Two more nations supporting Lumumba informed Hammarskjold they were withdrawing their troops from the Congo.

Morocco said it would withdraw its 3,139 men before Jan. 31, and Indonesia sent word its 1,151 men would bep ulled out not later than February. The U.A.R. asked Hammarskjold Monday to send home its 497 troops before Feb. 1. Authoritative sources reported Guinea's 733 will move out next month.

Wreck Hurts Mel Blanc

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mel Blanc, the man with a thousand voices known to millions, was in critical condition today, suffering from multiple injuries resulting from a head-on collision that demolished his car.

Blanc, the voice of Bugs Bunny and Woody Woodpecker, suffered compound fractures of both legs and head lacerations last night when his hardtop sports car collided with an auto driven by a college student.

Attendants at the UCLA Medical Center said he would undergo leg surgery.

Blanc, 51, was pinned in his car and had to be freed by police and ambulance attendants.

Arthur Rolston, 18, driver of the other car, suffered only minor knee injuries. He is a student at Menlo College.

Prince Criticized

LONDON (AP)—Prince Philip's prowess as a tiger hunter during Queen Elizabeth's Indian tour drew a front-page blast against the royal family today from the Daily Mirror.

"The royal family do not seem to have caught up with modern enlightened views on the killing of animals for pleasure," boomed the mammoth-circulation tabloid.

The prince shot his tiger yesterday in Rajasthan jungle near Jaipur at a shoot organized by the Maharajah of Jaipur.

U.S. Orders Space Filling Station Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States took its first tentative step today toward creation of cesmic filling stations for space ships.

In time, a series of these space platforms could become manned refueling points and wayside inns for astronauts bound on trips of exploration around the solor system — and possibly beyond.

Initially the problem is to find out whether such filling stations can be put together and how. There is no thought of putting men on them for some time.

The Natnonal Aeronautics and Space Administration announced today that a $100,000 contract to study the problems involved had been let by the George C. Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala., to the Lockheed Aircraft Corp., Sunnyvale.

Under the contract, Lockheed is to study the feasibility of sending two satellites into orbit and then hooking them together while they are whirling through space at 18,000 miles an hour.

If the Lockheed study indicates that the experiment is technically possible, then the space administration will give it a try, using the Thor-Agena B and the Atlas-Agena B missile and satellite combinations.

No Room At Parks

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The State Division of Beaches and Parks, pressing for expansion of its state park system, reports that on one weekend last summer 27,000 families had to be turned away from state park facilities.

Fairfax City Council Sets Public Hearing

The Fairfax City Council has set for Feb. 20 a public hearing of the Fairfax City Planning Commission's recommended changes of the city zoning ordinances. The hearing is slated for 7:30 in the council chambers.

Because the proposed changes were not numbered, the council Monday night referred them back to the planning commission, which will pass a resolution for the changes tomorrow night.

Apartment Owners Group Meets Tonight

Marin Apartment Owners Assn. will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the assembly room of the Peacock Court Apartments, 45 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael.

According to association manager L. F. Callahan, new by-laws will be considered and the group's plans for the year will be established, with particular emphasis on its attitude toward taxation within the county.

Hearings Due Lagoon-Type Homes Plan

A proposal to build lagoon-type homes on the 27-acre Cypress Point Annex in San Rafael, just south of Villa Real, will get public hearings on Feb. 14 and 28.

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night set the hearing dates on developer William Parnow's request for rezoning from unclassified to single-family residential.

Parnow disclosed that the main entrance to Cypress Point would be directly opposite the Villa Real entrance. He won permission to put up a 4-by-8 foot wooden sign advertising "Cypress Point."

The same public hearing dates, Feb. 14 and 28, were set for duplex zoning request for 19 lots between Bayo Vista Way and Scenic Avenue, north of the Miracle Mile. The area is now zoned for single family homes.

The series of Civil War clashes known as the Battle of Sportsylvania Court House were fought night and day over a period of two weeks.

BOARD MEETING TIME CHANGED —HOUR LATER

Hereafter the Marin County Board of Supervisors will convene an hour later on Mondays so Supervisor Walter R. Castro can attend San Rafael Rotary Club meetings.

Castro complained yesterday that the 1 p.m. session on Monday—an innovation of new Chairman William D. Fusselman—was ruining his Rotary luncheons. He had to rush away during the main speech to reach the courthouse on time, he complained.

His sympathetic colleagues promptly changed the Monday meeting time to 2 p.m.

Prison Psychiatrist Quits For New Job

Dr. Alfred L. Larson, for the past two and one-half years psychiatrist at San Quentin Prison, is resigning to become senior psychiatrist at the California Department of Mental Hygiene's new day treatment center in San Diego.

Dr. Larson, a Marin resident for six years, will move to San Diego County with his wife, Marion, and their three children.

Canal Street Apartments Are Planned

Another apartment building by developer Jack Farrar, a 28-unit structure valued at $275,000, will be erected at Canal and Hoag Streets in San Rafael.

San Rafael planning commissioners last night gave architectural approval to the Newland Apartments, which will be located next to the Franciscan Apartments, just completed. Farrar is building the new structure for William Newland of San Francisco.

Construction will begin in about two weeks, and the apartments should be ready in about five months, Farrar estimated. Rentals will run about $110 to $125 per month. Most of the units will have two bedrooms, and a swimming pool will be located in the central court of the building. Construction will be of frame, stucco and brick, and tar and gravel roof.

The humand body contains about 10 million million cells. use nearly 30 million new tires a year.

Novato Considering City Parking Lot

Negotiations began last night for Novato to acquire a city parking lot.

Councilman John J. Angeloni asked resident Jack Caristi if he would like to donate a lot at Industrial Way and Second Street for a city parking lot.

Caristi nimbly sidestepped. He said he'd donate it if the former owner would in turn donate it to him. But he said he would sell it to the city at the price he paid—$43,000.

Councilmen had just indicated they would turn down a request for a variance from parking requirements asked by Caristi so he could build a doughnut shop. Caristi agreed to withdraw, offering the city the lot, for a price.

Councilmen suggested that businessmen on Grant Avenue, the main shopping street, might be interested in contributing toward purchase of the lot. Caristi and City Administrator J. Julien Baget were asked to discuss the lot and report back to the council in about a month.

Governor Declares Schools Must Have $58 Million Extra

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—It will take an extra 58.6 million dollars next year just to keep public education in California at this year's level, Gov. Edmund G. Brown's 1961-62 state budget indicated today.

The increase, based on growing enrollments, brought to 1.1 billion dollars the sum budgeted for the elementary and high schools, junior colleges, state colleges and the University of California.

As in past years, schooling claimed the biggest chunk of state expenditures. Out of every dollar the state spends next year (from tax and bond funds), 43 cents will go to education.

Brown withheld money in the budget from new and expanded educational programs, even from programs he endorsed himself in his opening message to the 1961 legislature.

The budget contained no funds for the schooling of gifted students or the handling of emotionally disturbed children. There was no provision for a boost in state support to junior colleges.

But the seeds were planted in the 1961-62 budget for an enormous construction program for the state colleges and the university in the years immediately ahead.

Brown included $220,000 for planning of three new general campuses of the university in San Diego, Orange County, and the south central coast area. He provided $250,000 for initial planning and academic staff for a new medical school in San Diego.

The state college system, which will be under its own board of trustees for the first time next year, got two appropriations of $134,298 to begin planning for new campuses in the San Bernardino-Riverside area and the Los Angeles International Airport area.

Sonoma state college at Cotati got $423,549 for a planning and teaching staff, permitting it to open next fall.

The budget listed these major cost breakdowns for education in fiscal 1961-62:

LOCAL ASSISTANCE: 721.7 million dollars for apportionments to local school districts for each student in average daily attendance, an increase of 41.4 million to handle 190,000 additional students. Present enrollment in the elementary and secondary grades through junior college is listed at 3,550,000 students—22.5 per cent of the state's total population. The apportionment would remain at the $201.10 per pupil level set by the 1959 legislature.

STATE COLLEGES: 78.5 million dollars for operating costs, an increase of 13.8 per cent, and 40.4 million dollars for building programs at the campuses. Included is an increase in the basic student fee from $66 a year to $72 a year.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA: 134.8 million dollars for operations, an increase of 10 per cent, and 48 million for construction projects. No new research programs are authorized in the budget.

The governor's spending program provided $249,000 to strengthen the new coordinating council for higher education, which is charged with scrutinizing the budgets of the university and the colleges.

Also authorized in the budget were:

$1,639,999 to build a school for cerebral palsied children on a site adjacent to Los Angeles State College.

A state scholarship appropriation of 1.8 million dollars, up 44 per cent over the current year.

Continued participation in the national defense education act, which provides increased student loans, counseling and classes in mathematics, science and foreign languages.

No Major Park Work Scheduled For Marin

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—Only minor land acquisition and no major construction is scheduled in the next fiscal year for beaches and parks in Marin County, the state budget showed today. Even a plan for acquisition of all of Angel Island has been delayed.

Although a total of 17.2 million dollars was requested by Gov. Edmund G. Brown for operations of the huge state park system, only a small amount of it is destined for Marin's five state beaches and parks. Of this total, 8.1 million dollars is for acquisitions and development.

In Marin, no acquisition is scheduled at existing parks and only minor improvements in three parks. In Mount Tamalpais State Park $14,700 is earmarked for replacement of restrooms at the top of the mountain and other minor work. At Stinson Beach a new large comfort station, including dressing rooms and cold water showers will be built. Total cost is $42,500 including some other minor improvements there.

At Tomales Bay State Park, only $2,400 is earmarked for installing several pit-type toilets.

The acquisition of all of Angel Island, which the Division of Beaches and Parks had hopefully planned to complete in the coming year, did not materialize.

A spokesman for the division said the reason was that the federal government had not yet seen fit to relinquish the property, now a military reservation, and thus the division could not put funds in its budget for acquisition.

The state budget included $80,000 to round out the sum needed for acquisition of the first two parcels of land in the proposed Golden Gate Headlands State Park. There already is $250,000 available for this purpose.

The sum would be used to purchase 130 acres of Fort Baker and 161 acres of Fort Cronkhite which the federal government has declared surplus. Price tag on the property is half its $615,000 estimated value.

Only one employee would be added to the staffs of the five Marin parks under the budget proposal. A new park attendant would be put on the staff at Angel Island.

$73 Million Asked For Prison Funds

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown, pointing to overcrowded prisons, today asked for 73.7 million dollars for the Department of Corrections and the California Youth Authority.

Included in the request are plans for improved rehabilition programs for the state's youthful and adult offenders.

The corrections department which handles adults, would get 49.1 million dollars in the 1961-62 fiscal year. Of this, 3.7 million is earmarked for construction of new facilities.

Youth Authority officials asked for 21.4 million dollars to support their program and 3.2 million for construction and equipment. They expect 4,683 boys and girls in their facilities by 1962.

An estimated 22,100 adults are expected in California's prisons this year, an increase of 1,145 over last year.

San Quentin Budget Figures Detailed

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—An increase in the total budget for operation of San Quentin of only four tenths of 1 per cent is indicated in the state budget which was handed the legislature today for its consideration.

But that doesn't tell the whole story.

The budget calls for $6,946,878 for operations and $94,056 in capital outlay. But Department of Corrections officials admit the budget was prepared before the major influx of prisoners into custody.

In the last three months of last year the prison system had a record number of new arrivals. The budget had been prepared expecting the average occupancy of San Quentin to be about 4,500, and decreasing to 3,800 by the end of the year because of the opening of a new facility at San Luis Obispo.

Under present conditions, however, prison officials are re-evaluating the situation.

Walter Dunbar, deputy director said, "We are trying to calculate now just what changes we will have to make in the budget to accommodate the greater prison population. We expect to have the figures by the end of next week."

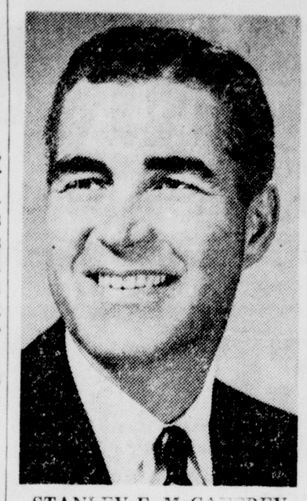
The capital outlay budget for San Quentin includes equipping of the new Protestant chapel, $8,000; installation of a new security lighting cable, $17,000; installation of the first phase of new underground heating facilities, $37,594; alterations to the hospital and clinic, $6,455; install towel racks in 1,000 cells, $5,812; equip two new conservation camps, $10,500, and small alterations and improvements, $2,800.

Gate Authority Still Has Fund

I-J. Special Report

SACRAMENTO—The Golden Gate Commission Authority has more than $100,000 of its $250,000 appropriation left and can spend it even though commissioners are expected to submit their recommendations to the legislature and the governor shortly.

The state budget showed today that the commission, which is investigating possibility of establishing an agency to coordinate transportation facilities in the Bay Area, has $107,492 to spend before it goes out of existence on Dec. 31. It is spending only $127,576 in the current year during which it did most of its investigations.



STANLEY E. McCAFFREY
Council president

Berkeley Man To Head Bay Area Council

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Stanley E. McCaffrey of Berkeley was named president of the Bay Area Council today.

The appointment was announced by Edgar F. Kaiser, chairman of the board of the nine-county civic group.

Kaiser said the council will work in close cooperation with existing agencies such as chambers of commerce, development associations and the newly created Association of Bay Area Governments.

McCaffrey, 43, was with the University of California for more than 11 years, the last three as vice president. He resigned in April 1960 to serve as executive assistant to then Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Col. John S. Harnett, former district chief of the Army Corps of Engineers who recently joined the council as executive secretary, will become general manager.

Reed School Holiday

Reed Union School District children will have a holiday on Friday while teachers visit other schools as part of their in-service training program, Supt. Paul R. Stouffer said today.

Planners Give New Zoning Green Light

Creation of a new type zoning in San Rafael—administrative professional zone—cleared its first big hurdle last night when city planning commissioners gave unanimous approval.

The matter now goes to the San Rafael City Council for one hearing and final action.

The new type zoning would be limited chiefly to offices, studios and laboratories. Maximum building height would be 36 feet, and maximum lot coverage would be 40 per cent. A front setback of 20 feet and a side setback of 6 feet would be required.

Dr. William S. Neal, owner of a medical building in the Marin Professional Center across from Terra Linda, has been urging that the professional center be limited to administrative-professional use.

Orlando Conti, who acted as chairman last night, said he sees nothing wrong in raising the height limit of buildings to about 50 feet. However, he voted with the other three commissioners for the 36-foot limitation.

Charles Hendrickson moved to approve the new type zoning, and Nick Dollwett seconded the motion.

Chairman Pat Hetherton and Commissioner Carl Brown were absent last night.

Raise For Assessor Aide Put At $69

County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel said today he seeks to raise the salary of his assistant, H. W. Johnson from $701 to $770 monthly rather than $701 to $846 as reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

The $846 figure, Broemmel said, is the maximum possible in range 30 to which he wishes to move Johnson, but he would actually draw only $770 because he would be at the third step.

Sonoma College Funds Not For Construction

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Funds for operating the North Bay's new Sonoma State College starting next fall are included in the 1961-63 state budget introduced in the legislature today. But there is no money for construction of buildings at the Cotati site and selection of a president for the institution may delay the opening.

The budget establishes $423,549 for operation of the new college, enough to educate 150 students with a 49-man staff. But left undecided is where the college will operate next fall and who will be its teachers.

Supt. of Public Instruction Roy E. Simpson has been looking for a president for the institution for some time. He had hoped to announce his selection by the start of this year.

Simpson's office noted today, however, that "things haven't been moving as swiftly as Mr. Simpson would have liked."

It would be up to the president to select a staff for the new college and to make arrangements for buildings and other facilities in which to conduct classes, presumably in rented quarters in or around Santa Rosa.

So until the president is selected, no one will know where or if Sonoma State College will open this fall semester.

But Gov. Edmund G. Brown's budget assumes Simpson will find the man. It provides for his salary of $15,672 to $19,044 and for an executive dean in the $15,000 range. Then there will be 10 new teachers, five supervisors, and five technical and clerical positions. Nine and a half positions have been set up for administration and business management functions, six student personnel assignments, five in the library and one in plant operations.

Because the State College System will take over operation of the Sonoma State college and all other state colleges on July 1, development of the educational policy will be left entirely in their hands, the budget noted. At the same time, part of the staff will be used in planning ahead for the college as in "all new colleges recently established."

Legislature Gets Aqueduct Land Figures

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — There is $310,000 for purchase of rights of way and $59,447 for state operations of the North Bay Aqueduct in the state budget, which was delivered to the legislature today by Gov. Edmund G. Brown. But there are indications that feasibility of the project is being challenged.

Frank Bragg, public information officer for the State Division of Water Resources, said today a restudy of the whole project is under way. He admitted that although one million dollars has been available to the division for more than a year for rights of way purchases, "not one square foot" of land has yet to be acquired for the project.

Bragg said that the "tentative" report of a study started last year has been delivered to William E. Warne, new chief of the division. While not revealing what the study indicated, "I can tell you that it will be taken up at the highest level and resolved shortly."

He said that "within the next four to six weeks" the devision would send representatives into the four-county area, including Marin, which would be served by the aqueduct. They would meet with representatives of the various water agencies.

"It has not been decided whether to hold public hearings," he said.

Scouts, Dates Hold Big Dance Friday

One hundred Marin Boy Scout Council Explorers and their dates are expected to attend the "Snowflake Ball" Friday night at the Henry C. Hall School in Larkspur.

Chairman is Brad Kard of San Rafael.

Music is being provided by Musicians Union Local 6. Decorations and refreshments will follow the snowflake theme.

Park Fund Pegged At $17 Million

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A total of 17.2 million dollars was requested by Gov. Edmund G. Brown today to maintain California's huge state park system and begin a five-year program of building new facilities.

For the first time in recent years, money for the parks will come from the general fund. In the past, the system has been supported by tideland oil royalties but this year the legislature will be asked to abolish the special state beaches and parks fund.

The capital outlay program iucludes 3.7 million dollars for acquisition of new sites and 4.4 million dollars for development.

The Division of Beaches and Parks proposes constructing 813 more camp sites, 575 picnic units, 2,126 parking spaces plus roads, walkways and other facilities.

Some of the projects are not new, having been deferred in past years because of diminishing revenues from the tideland oil royalties.

Included among the support requests was $300,123 for Squaw Valley State Park.

NURSERY SCHOOL READY FOR VISITORS

The Terra Linda Nursery School, which operates under the San Rafael High School District's adult education program, will observe National Nursery School week, starting Sunday — by "business as usual." Parents are especially invited to visit the school in the Presbyterian Church at Santa Venetia during the week, said Mrs. Betty Hutchinson of Fairfax, director. She is shown here with (clockwise from center foreground) Nancy Barrass, Amanda Doane, Jim Halvorson, Tom Buskirk, Peter Simcich, Matt Buchanan, Bob Vaupen, Suzy Smickler and Roddy Mehrten. The school holds sessions until noon. (Independent-Journal photo)

Larkspur Trustees Peg School Fund

Larkspur School District trustees last night decided to spend $28,000 for capital outlay items.

Final decision on what will be purchased was left up to Supt. Vaughn Seidel and the administrative staff, but approximately 90 per cent of the items will be classroom needs to improve the instructional program.

The items will include globes, maps, screens, projectors and phonographs, Dr. Seidel said. In addition, some of the funds will be used for a fence around the Larkspur-Corte Madera school yard; some blacktopping at all three schools, and installation of a loudspeaker system, stage curtain and large screen in the multipurpose room at Hall School.

Seidel had reported at a previous meeting that some $65,000 worth of items were needed, but funds are not available at this time for everything.

The superintendent reported that the site for the new school is now being graded by the owners, San Clemente Land Co., as part of the purchase agreement.

The committee seeking a name for the new school is receiving suggestions and will report to the board Feb. 14, Seidel said.

In other matters, the board:

1. Set a $500 salary for summer school teachers for the five-week session and heard summer school Principal Douglas Lindauer report he can hire the teachers from the district staff.

2. Heard that children in grades 4-8 were able to watch inaugural activities on school television sets and on extra sets loaned for the occasion by Dexter's Television.

3. Discussed rezoning of the district for next fall in terms of school attendance, and the charges necessary when the new school opens.

4. Heard that Seidel will serve as a section chairman at the American Assn. of School Administrators western meeting in San Francisco Feb. 28. He will lead a discussion on the use of television in the classroom and whether it will have an effect on local, state or national control of the educational program.

HIGH SCHOOL POLLS KEPT OPEN TODAY

Because of a mix-up in the time the polling booths were to open yesterday at San Rafael High School, the runoff election for the student body presidency was continued through today.

Michael Casselman and Gary Ledson received the highest votes in a four-way race but neither won the required majority in the elections last Thursday and Friday.

Civic Center Group Names New Leader

The Marin Council for Civic Affairs, which started out two weeks ago as the Citizens for the Civic Center, last night elected a new chairman and called for its second mass meeting.

The mass meeting, next Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Olney Hall of College of Marin, will be an indignation meeting against Supervisor Chairman William D. Fusselman's proposal for an "official straw vote" on the civic center and other county matters said Harold Stockstad, outgoing chairman of the committee.

Leland H. Jordan of Fairfax, former county counsel, was elected last night to succeed Stockstad, who had submitted his resignation. Stockstad later was named chairman of the council's standing committee on the civic center.

Milen Dempster of Mill Valley was confirmed as treasurer and Dr. Robert Mertle of Santa Venetia as recording secretary. Mrs. Miriam Lawler of San Rafael was elected corresponding secretary.

The group approved a draft of proposed articles of incorporation. It adopted a set of bylaws which state its purpose is "to foster, encourage and support responsible and efficient county government."

The meeting prepared a statement attacking the straw vote proposal, declaring:

"As with Mr. Fusselman's illfated suggestion that work on the civic center be halted in midstream, it would appear just as unwise to attempt to raise doubts about the future of this project by a referendum conducted while work is in progress under a legally binding contract. However, if such a challenge is presented to the citizens of Marin County, we are confident that the civic center will emerge, once and for all, victorious."

Park Location For Glenwood On Agenda

Selection of a park site for Glenwood will be the main item before the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission when it meets at 8 o'clock tonight in the city hall.

Commissioners hope to decide whether to recommend a site on Knight Drive or one on Robinwood Drive, to the city council. Each site covers six acres.

The commission has been studying the two sites for six months since the city council questioned the cost of the Robinhood Drive site, which was shown as a park in the subdivision map. Its cost was estimated at $75,000, the Knight Drive site only $42,500.

The Glenwood Homeowners Assn., has recommended the Robinhood site as a more beautiful and natural park setting.

Named Officer

John S. Watson of Petaluma has been named regional vice president of the California State Chamber of Commerce, North Coast District, it was announced today by Robert A. Hornby, state chamber president.

PAPER WORK?

Personnel Commission Bypass Is Criticized

The Marin County Personnel Commission has been by-passed for the past week in county appointments and promotions.

Chairman Julius H. Selinger of the personnel commission complained yesterday to the board of supervisors. It developed that J. Walter Blair, chairman of the board's new finance committee, had directed that lists for appointments and promotions be given directly to his committee without being cleared by the commission.

"What is the purpose of having them go to the personnel commission?" demanded Blair.

Selinger said the procedure was provided under the county's merit system ordinance.

"The merit system was created to prevent sole, complete jurisdiction of department heads," he said.

"Every time we try to cut out some paper work," complained Blair, "Mr. Bruce brings somebody in against it." (Alan Bruce, county administrator, was present with Selinger and indicated Selinger had appeared at his suggestion.)

Chairman William D. Fusselman directed that the finance committee follow the step-by-step required procedure on raises and appointments before submitting them to the whole board of supervisors.

"Some orientation is indicated," commented Selinger.

L. C. Brooks of San Rafael was reappointed to the personnel commission on motion of Supervisor Walter R. Castro.

Principal's Son In Honors Group

San Rafael High School senior Don Phelps, 17, son of Principal Ralph Phelps, is one of 10 students in California picked to be the "honors group" of the Westinghouse science talent search.

Don will be one of about 400 in the nation to try for the 40 top prizes which entitle the winners to a trip to Washington, D.C., and a chance to meet the president. A total of $34,000 in scholarships will go to the winners.

Young Phelps' project, which he entered in the contest, is entitled: "Purification of Phosphoglyceromutase." It involves purfication of an enzyme.

The finalists were chosen from 25,355 graduating seniors who were given examinations for the contest. Of these, 3,991 met all the qualifications for judging.

There were 12 other winners in California.

Panel To Discuss County Hospital

Plans for the future of the Marin County Hospital and Farm will be discussed by a panel of four over radio station KTIM tomorrow at 9 a.m.

Moderating the hour-long "Marin Sounding Board" program will be Kitty Oppenheimer. Panelists will be Alan Bruce, county administrator; William Slocum, president of the newly formed Nursing Home Assn.; George S. Jones, county clerk, and Gordon R. Cumming, chief of the State Bureau of Hospitals.

Questions telephoned in during the broadcast will be used over the air. The discussion will be rebroadcast via tape on Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

By RICHMOND BARBOUR, Ph. D.
Guidance Counsellor

We Owe It To Our Children Tell Them Facts Of Life

Where did you learn the facts of life? The same place I did, out in the alley?

Who were your teachers? Some bright-eyed, nasty older kids?

Let's take a look at sex education:

Our parents should have instructed us, but didn't. Our sex education was haphazard and off-color. We developed odd ideas and unnecessary fears.

We ought to do a better job with our children. At least we can try.

What should we teach them?

All the basic facts. They need to know how babies start and where they develop. They need to know about the prenatal period and birth.

What words should you use? The real ones. Evasive words only confuse things.

When should you teach them? Early in their lives. They should have the essential information before they go to school. If you wait until they are 12 or 14 it will be too late. They'll learn the same way we learned, with the same bad results. At 4 they can learn without embarrassment. At 14 they can't.

How should you begin? Probably with the old question, "Where did I come from?" Almost all children ask it while they're tiny. They ask other questions too. Try to answer them briefly, and in a matter-of-fact way with no laughter, no stalling, no deceit. Just be fair and honest.

A book which will help you is called, "How to Tell Your Children About Sex." It was prepared by the Child Study Assn. of America. Get it in the book section of your drug store.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Our school now offers sex instruction in the sixth grade. Is this good?"

F. S.

(A) It can be either good or bad. School sex education should be taught by carefully selected, especially trained teachers. Only children whose parents request it should be admitted. The goal should be the creation of high standards, not just the imparting of factual information.

Would End Tests

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk has recommended the abolition of election day reading tests as a criterion for voting. He proposes that reading ability be checked, as is required by the constitution, at the time of registration.

Rec Center Picks Four Directors

Membership of the Southern Marin Recreation Center last night elected four new directors and decided that the center's name should be changed "because it is no longer applicable."

New directors are Ralph B. Dewey, Robert L. Knapp, Lloyd M. Stark and Thomas S. Price. They succeed Arno Rayner, Sherman Peterson, Mrs. Elmer C. Boyden and Willard Anderson.

Suggested names for the center are Shark Point Club, Pelican Point Club, Tiburon Swim and Tennis Club, Bath and Tennis Club of Tiburon, and Tiburon Peninsula Swim and Tennis Club. The 360-family membership will be ballotted by mail on a name, President Fred W. Zimmerman said.

The main hall was dedicated in memory of a community pioneer and founding member, the late Earl W. (Hank) Homan. Mrs. Homan and members of her family were present to witness the unveiling of a commemorative plaque above the fireplace dedicating the hall.

The Rev. E. J. Mohr, St. Stephen's Episcopal Church minister, gave the invocation, and Russell Keil spoke on the work of Homan for the community and its children.

Chamber To Seat Its New Officers

Fred Ullner of All Channel TV Service will be installed as president of the Larkspur Chamber of Commerce at a dinner in the Blue Rock Inn at 7:30 p.m. today.

About 25 persons are expected to attend. Mayor Arthur E. Storhaug will install the officers. Mrs. Jane Epidendio is chairman of the affair.

Other new officers are Chris Schlag, barber, vice president; Mortimer Coombs, manager of the Larkspur Branch of the Bank of America, treasurer, and Mrs. Mabelle Culpepper of Culpepper Realty, secretary.

Cities' Cores Sick, Urban Group Told

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—American cities are sick and the ailment — downtown slums and rundown business buildings — threatens their survival, a New York banker warns.

David Rockefeller, president of Chase Manhattan Bank, told a San Francisco urban renewal organization yesterday a central city and its functions are vital to an entire metropolitan region.

"As the tree is doomed to death once its core is rotten, the city which is healthy only at the fringes cannot long endure," he asserted.

More than 500 leading San Franciscans heard the point underscored by a housing expert, Robert Ryan of the Perini Corp., who reported the nation now has more families residing in slums than on farms. Other speakers at the daylong session suggested that what is needed, here and elsewhere, is less talk and more action.

John L. Merill, president of the San Francisco Planning and Urban Renewal Assn., advocated an immediate study of city and area housing conditions. Prof. Catherine B. Wurster of the University of California said racial discrimination in suburbs must be broken down.

All suburban communities, she said, must work together in solving a region's housing problems. And the same is true of transportation, she added.

BOARD RECONSIDERS

County Medical Aide To Attend Conference

Dr. Mary J. Tonelli, assistant Marin County health officer, may take a $228 federal-paid trip to Dallas, Tex. after all.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors, which on Monday refused permission for the trip by a 3-2 vote, reversed itself yesterday by 4-1.

Administrator Alan Bruce had been asked Monday how much the trip to attend a venereal disease institute in Dallas would cost Uncle Sam. At the time he didn't know. He came up with the answer yesterday and added that Dr. Carolyn Albrecht, health officer, had shown that Marin statistics, like those of San Francisco, disclose "an increase beyond expectations" in venereal rate this year.

Although assured that there would be no county expense, Supervisor J. Walter Blair stuck to a previously expressed view that such things could be handled adequately by mail. Dr. Albrecht's reply, said Bruce, was that it was the difference between going to a university and taking a correspondence course.

"I've been on these junkets myself," said Blair. "They don't have to see things done, as in a classroom."

Supervisor George Ludy moved to reconsider the earlier move and this time Supervisors William Gnoss and Walter R. Castro joined chairman William D. Fusselman in support. But Blair again voted "no."

A request by Auditor-Controller L. A. deLisle for attendance of his data processing bureau chief, Arleigh Sewell, at a Eureka meeting of the California Assn. of County Data Processing Feb. 14 at total cost of $59 drew sharp comment from Fusselman, defense by Gnoss and Castro and finally reference to the finance committee.

Fund To Aid Study Of Incorporation

Directors of the Tiburon Property Owners Assn. have voted a total of $300 to the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council toward the study of incorporation scheduled for the peninsula.

Of the total, $175 will be taken out of the current treasury and the $125 balance is guaranteed by the board of directors personally, said president William H. Von Lackum.

Directors, meeting Saturday in executive session, scheduled a membership meeting for election of officers on Feb. 16 in the Tiburon Boulevard fire station.

The coordinating council, at its meeting tonight will discuss the incorporation movement.

Special Votes Budget Paid Back In Full

Marin County Clerk George S. Jones reported to the board of supervisors yesterday that his office had collected $19,429 for services rendered on special elections so that the special elections budget figure of $9,600 has been reimbursed in full.

A clerk's fees credit of $9,829 disposed of the rest of the money, he said.

Jones said legislation will soon be introduced at Sacramento to make voting machines mandatory in all counties with 10 or more precincts. Marin's present precinct total is 310 and there will be more at the next election, he said. And he's seen no voting machines costing less that $1,750 each.

"There is quite a lobby working on this and they could force you into a nice expenditure," he said.

The Khmer peoples, who lived in southeast Asia more than 500 years ago, were accomplished hydraulic engineers. Their land abounded in a complex system of canals, basins and reservoirs.

College Trustees Will See Film Tomorrow

An hour-long motion picture on education, "And No Bells Ring," will be shown College of Marin trustees tomorrow at 8 p.m., in Room 61 of the Arts Building on the Kentfield Campus.

The film, produced by the Ford Foundation, will be shown by Elwood Lahman of the School Planning Division of the State Department of Education.

After the film, Lahman will discuss specific planning problems of the college with board members and administrators and representatives of the school's architects, Mark Falk and Wesley Hull.

A report will be given the trustees by Dean of Men Irwin Diamond on his activities with high schools last term and plans for future relationships with local high schools.

Board members will consider approval of an evening traffic school to be operated, if approved, in cooperation with the California Highway Patrol.

The board will be given the fall quarter financial report of the Adult Education Program by Samuel N. LeCount, adult school director.

Sausalito Trustee Won't Run Again

Sausalito school board member Hal N. Mays announced today he is not seeking re-election to the board this year.

Mays, who lives at 95 Monte Mar Drive, has been on the school board since March of last year. He is the clerk of the board.

Mays said he decided not to file for re-election because of pressure of his business. He is an engineer with Standard Oil Co.

Fairfax Planners To Report On Land Use Density

The Fairfax Planning Commission has been assigned by the city council to develop a report on land use density throughout Fairfax.

The job was given the planning commission at a special meeting of the council Monday night, at which councilmen examined the planning commission's draft of changes in the proposed zoning ordinance but returned it for re-drafting.

Daniel M. Miller, planning commission chairman, said the commission will start work on the land use study at its meeting at 8 p. m. tomorrow in the city council chambers. No deadline for producing the report was specified by the council—"a good thing," said Miller, "as it may take us a long time."

Laws Urged To Speed Up Damage Suits

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Judicial Council has called for legislation designed to speed traffic accident litigation in California courts.

The council said that in the more populous counties it now takes more than a year to go to trial. It recommended:

1. Shifting more of the smaller cases to municipal courts by increasing their jurisdiction from $3,000 to $6,000. The council said approximately 40 per cent of recoveries in personal injury cases in Los Angeles Superior Court during 1959 were under $3,000.

2. Substituting a system of comparative negligence for the present contributory negligence rules.

Present law denies any damages to an injured person who is partly at fault, even though the fault of the other party may have been much greater.

Under a system of comparative negligence, the injured person's damages would merely be diminished in proportion to his degree of fault.

School Committee Posts Announced

Wyman Hicks, president of the board of trustees of Marin Country Day School on Paradise Drive, has announced the following committee appointments for 1961:

David Winslow, admissions policy; Peter Behr, attorney; Richard Hartshorne Jr., bus program planning; Alexander Imlay, bylaws; Benjamin J. Baum, finance; Mrs. Edward Gaspar, history of Marin Country Day School and landscaping; John J. Raskob Jr., new building; Mr. Baum and Herbert A. Crocker, real property; Mr. Imlay, parents' loan fund; Mrs. Norman B. Livermore Jr., scholarship and summer program; Mrs. Ernest D. Mendenhall Jr., special gifts; Baum and Winslow, spring fund drive.

Renault Introduces More Powerful Compact Car In U.S. Market Soon

A new and more powerful economy car, the Renault Gordini, will be introduced in the American market within the next few weeks. It will carry a suggested West Coast port-of-entry price of approximately $1,755.

Renault is also reducing the suggested retail price of its Dauphine model from $1,695 to $1,565. In addition, the Renault 4CV will now carry a suggested tag of $1,195 — reduced from $1,342, West Coast port-of-entry.

All this is part of a move to recapture some of the American foreign car purchase money, and Renault may do just that. The Gordini has a 40 h.p. engine, four-speed gearbox, seats with adjustable backs, and luxury interiors — but same body lines and economy of the Dauphine.

The firm has also extended its warranty period from six months to 12 months or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first. It's retroactive to cover all Renault cars and trucks purchased since July 21, 1960.

BIANCO MOTORS, San Rafael Pontiac and Cadillac dealer and hitherto a partnership, has filed articles of incorporation in Sacramento, to be capitalized at $500,000 in $10 par shares. It marks the retirement of former firm member Silivio J. Ruffino of San Rafael.

Directors of the company have been listed as Leonard I. Proaps, president, Anthony Brunini and Joseph H. Mello, vice presidents and Emil Bettini, secretary-treasurer. All are San Rafael residents.

A TWO-PLY TIRE said to have the same carcass strength as standard four-ply tires has been developed by the B. F. Goodrich Co. for compact cars.

The two layers of Tyrex rayon cord are larger and stronger than those used in conventional tires. Goodrich believes the new lighter weight tire will be softer riding, cooler running and match present tires in endurance and tread wear.

A "pilot quantity" of the tires has been shipped to auto manufacturers for testing.

MAJOR CONSTRUCTION work started Monday on the nuclear power unit of Pacific Gas and Electric Co.'s Humboldt Bay power plant.

The 60,000-kilowatt boiling water reactor plant is scheduled for completion in the summer of 1962. It will cost in excess of 20 million dollars with PG&E footing the entire bill.

This may be the first atomic power plant in the United States to make electricity as cheaply as it can be done with gas, oil, coal or falling water, but it's not likely to be possible until the third year of operation.

The containment system and reactor will be housed in a steel and concrete caisson, sunk in the ground to a depth of 85 feet.

Bechtel Corp. is general contractor for the project and the reactor and related facilities are being designed and built by General Electric Co.

Report Cards To Be Topic For Teachers

Teachers of the Sausalito School District will discuss report cards at a teachers' institute to be held all day Friday at Richardson Bay School, Supt. Marcus F. Davis said today.

Mrs. Marjorie Suthoff, chairman of the report card reporting committee, discussed the subject Monday night before the board of trustees. Findings from the teachers' institute will be given the board at its next meeting, Feb. 6.

Robert D. Thomson, Richardson Bay School principal, compared the Conant junior high school report with work being done in his school's seventh and eighth grades. He found, Davis said, all the report's recommendations being carried on in the district except that Sausalito schools do not have gymnasium facilities.

The board approved transfer of the Marin City child care center from the administration building to the elementary school on a temporary basis beginning about April 3. The move is necessary, said Davis, because the Housing Authority is short of space. Space will be provided in the proposed community services district building for the center to move back.

The trustees also approved the assignment of Edward Surles from status of temporary bus driver to permanent.

Quentin Group Plans Dinner

The San Quentin Chapter of the California Correctional Officers Assn. will hold a dinner for members and wives Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the Wye Club in San Rafael.

State Sen. John F. McCarthy and Assemblyman William T. Bagley have been invited as guest speakers. Other speakers will be Verne Hoffman of Acampo; the association's legislative advocate; F. Nason O'Hara of San Francisco, association legal adviser, and C. Charles Hogan, public employees' representative.

The organization is composed of uniformed correctional personnel employed in state correctional institutions. Officers of the San Quentin chapter are Al F. Mello of Black Point, director; Edward N. Hatton of Berkeley, vice director; Von C. Morris of San Quentin Village, secretary, and Carlos W. Nelson of Mill Valley, treasurer (he is also statewide treasurer of the association).

Jones Describes His Effortless Golf Swing In Unbelievable Confusion

HANLEY

Hackers who missed seeing the top pros in action last week during the Crosby Invitational still can catch them this week at Harding Park during the Lucky International. Watching how they fashion flawless shots is the best kind of instruction. Something like the old Chinese proverb: "One picture is worth 1,000 words."

Bobby Jones had an effortless, picture swing when he was the Grand Slam master three decades ago. But in his book, Golf Is My Game, Jones' description of the importance of swinging is unbelievably confusing.

Here is what Jones says verbatim:

"Some thirty odd years ago I discovered that an effective position at the top of the golf swing could be reached from a normal address posititon by making just three separate consecutive movements— first, from the position of address, by employing only the hands and arms, to lift the club directly over the right shoulder (as though to bash the ball into the ground), assuring a full cocking of the wrists; second, to execute a full rotation of the trunk to the right, keeping the head immovable and using the spine as an axis; third, to lift the hands and arms straight up to the normal top-of-swing position.

"UPON the execution of these movements, the player will find himself in perfect position to begin his hitting effort, lacking only the sense of rhythm that he can have only by passing through this position in a complete swing. The sources of power represented by the windup of the trunk, the cocking of the wrists and the swinging of the arms are all there. The players' performance will be determined by the efficiency with which he employs these sources."

GOLF, like any other sport, requires a certain amount of skill. But if one of the competent local pros hereabouts used the same kind of language Jones does about the importance of swinging, his pupils would stare at him in bewilderment.

Swinging a golf club for the first time might feel awkward to a novice determined on learning the game. But it is far from as complicated as some believe. It definitely can't be learned from a book.

AND EVEN though it still is considered a sissy game by some cynics, it cannot be played well by a hacker not in fair physical condition. Every one of the pros we saw last week at Pebble Beach and this week at Harding were in top condition.

Redwood Nips Tam For Seventh Straight

High-flying Redwood High School stretched its winning streak to seven yesterday afternoon and stayed on top of the Marin County Athletic League basketball standings with a thrilling 40-39 victory over the Indians at Tamalpais High. The win gave the Giants a 4-0 league record, a game better than the 3-1 mark of San Rafael's Bulldogs, whom they will entertain Friday night.

A free throw by Redwood's Mike Hoffman broke a 39-39 tie with 52 seconds remaining in the game and, although both teams had two more chances at the foul line, neither could alter the score.

In order to win the Giants were forced to overcome a fine fourth quarter performance by Tam's Conrad Hoetger, who played despite an injured knee. The skillful Indian guard dropped in two quick baskets early in that period to put his team ahead 36-31. The lead was short-lived, however, as Coach Dick Hart's Giants called time, regrouped his forces, and proceded to score eight straight points. With the tally 39-36, Jim Mitchelle of Tam sank a free throw to narrow the gap to 37-39, and then Hoetger grabbed a rebound, and hit with a jump shot to tie the score.

MARIN STANDINGS
Redwood 4-0, San Rafael 3-1, Tamalpais 2-2, Drake 2-2, Marin Catholic 1-3, Novato 0-4.

The first half was marked by two long scoring streaks back-to-back. Redwood broke a 10-10 tie late in the first period by jamming 10 points through the hoop; but the aroused Indians bounced back even more explosively, with 12 consecutive markers. Just before the end of the half, though, they surrendered the lead, as Roger Siemens meshed a jumper for a 23-22 Giant advantage at the intermission.

The Indians of Coach Eddie Chavez were spearheaded by little guard Charlie Bullock, who bagged 13 points. Hoetger accounted for 10, while Norm Kreuter notched 9. Siemens' 12 points led the winners, who as usual divided their scoring pretty evenly among the first six players. Hep Wilkins got eight, and earned Hart's praise with a good all-around effort.

The Giant mentor now has the problem of trying to stop San Rafael's high-scoring Randy Petrini Friday night. He may attempt to muzzle the Bulldog star by "leashing" big Rich Brear to him. Last season Brear helped Redwood win the league Christmas tournament by holding Petrini scoreless in the championship game.

Golf Greats Tee Off In S.F. Tomorrow

By HAL WOOD

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The "follow the sun" golfers teed off in the early morning fog in Harding Park today in the $5,000 pro amateur event — prelude to the $50,000 Lucky International Tournament starting tomorrow.

The weather forecast for the weekend of golf is "cloudy" with possible showers. If it stays that good, everybody will be happy — including the pro golfers and sponsors.

Today's feature attraction wasn't the professionals, however. Such men from the entertainment world as Bing Crosby, Phil Harris, Dennis Morgan, John Raitt, Howard Keel, Johnny Weissmuller and James "Maverick" Garner will be in the pairings.

SPORTS FIGURES

From the world of sports other than golfers, were Ernie Nevers, Bill Rigney and Bob Reynolds, the latter the new president of the Los Angeles Angels.

There were no complaints from some of the pros making practice rounds yesterday on the municipal course.

"This course is playing pretty good," said Billy Casper, the Apple Valley stout man after he toured it in six under par 65.

"The fairways are good and the greens are better than I anticipated."

Casper set a course record at Pebble Beach last week — and presumably has got his game back on the beam.

HIGH SCORES

Some of the others didn't have too much to say after posting higher scores. Former National Open Champion Lloyd Mangrum had a 76. Al Balding of Canada wasn't too happy with a 74. Johnny Pott, Shreveport, La., had an even par 72. Wes Ellis, West Caldwell, N. J. had a one under par 70.

When the heavy firing gets under way tomorrow the biggest international field in years will be in the lineup.

Aside from the top American stars such as Arnold Palmer, Bob Goalby, Bob Rosburg, Ken Venturi, Jay Herbert and Art Wall, the cast includes 16 men from foreign countries.

Among these are: Chen Ching-Po of Formosa; Haruyoshi Kabari and Tadashi Kitsuta of Japan; Pastore Domingo and Ben Arda of the Philippines; Nils Semeleng or Uruguay; Max Faulkner of England; Gary Player of South Africa; and Eric Brown of Scotland.

FLOYD WILL GET A KICK OUT OF THIS

MARIN CATHOLIC BOWS

San Rafael Still In Thick Of Race

Coach Bob Muster's San Rafael Bulldogs continued in hot pursuit of first place Redwood yesterday by downing Marin Catholic 50-43 in the Marin Athletic League basketball race at Marin.

San Rafael (3-1) meets Redwood (4-0) Friday night in hopes of grabbing a share of the lead at the halfway mark in the schedule.

With big Randy Petrini, Rich Robertson and Rich Curry scoring in double figures and Bruce McPhail once again starring on defense, the taller Bulldogs scored their winning margin in the first period, 11-4. Thereafter Marin matched the Bulldogs point for point, but the damage had already been done.

San Rafael threatened to bust the game wide open in the fourth period, taking a 13 point lead at one stage, but Marin's Ed O'Connell and Jerry Smith started a rally that trimmed the Bulldog lead to three points in the final minute. Foul shots, however, enabled San Rafael to pad its lead to the safe seven-point margin. The Bulldogs scored 18 charities to Marin's 9.

SODEN HURT

Marin was severely handicapped by the absence of Jim Soden, 6-foot-3 center, benched with a sprained ankle. This left the 5-11 Jim Enos the Wildcats' tallest man and they gave away four and five inches in height to some of the Bulldogs like Petrini and Robertson.

"Considering our lack of height," said Marin Coach Bernie Schneider, "I thought it was a very creditable game for our boys."

Petrini and O'Connell shared game honors with 17 points each. In four games now Petrini leads the league with 64 points, a 16-point average.

Curry had 12 and Robertson 11 for San Rafael and Smith tallied 11 for Marin's runner-up honors.

VARSITY SCORING

DRAKE BEATS NOVATO IN ROUGH GAME

Basketball is a "non-contact" sport, but they changed the tactics up Novato way yesterday as the local Hornets battled the Drake Pirates in a Marin League contest.

Referees whistled 24 fouls against Novato and 20 against Drake. The Pirates made good on 23 of their 35 gift opportunities and went on to score a 55-43 victory.

Mike Bresnan (14 points), Steve Anderson (11) and Sam Johnson (10) led scoring and Bill Collins dominated the rebounding department with 14 to give Coach Carl Brown's Pirates their second league win against as many losses. Drake got off 53 shots, its high for the season.

Game scoring honors went to Hornet Bill Tuel with 15.

Kansas City Strengthens Catcher, Shortstop Posts

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Trader Frank Lane has turned to the Baltimore Orioles and come up with five players in an effort to strengthen the Kansas City Athletics at shortstop and catcher.

In his first deal as the A's general manager, Lane shuffled outfielders Russ Snyder and Whitey Herzog off to Baltimore.

The A's got catcher Clint Courtney, outfielder Al Pilarcik, first baseman Bob Boyd, pitcher Jim Archer and infielder Wayne Causey.

"This is the type of deal we needed to make in order to start spring training respectably," Lane said.

Prior to the deal, the Athletics had only one shortstop, Dick Howser, a rookie who played last season with Shreveport of the Southern Association. As catchers, they had Haywood Sullivan, with limited and undistinguished major league experience, and Bill Bryan, a rookie up from Class D.

Lane expressed hope that Causey, 24, will push Howser for the shortstop job. As a bonus player, Causey spent 1955 and 1956 with the Orioles. He has been in the minors since then because of weak hitting.

Courtney, 33, has been in the majors eight years. He batted .228 in 154 times at bat last season as second string to Gus Triandos.

Of the other three obtained by the A's, Pilarcik, 30, is the only one conceded a chance to play regularly. He batted .247 in 194 trips last season.

Baylor's 56-Point Spree Sets Mark In L.A. Contest

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

In 1947, Joe Fulks of the Philadelphia Warriors won the National Basketball Assn. scoring title by averaging 23.2 points a game and the runner-up averaged 16.8.

Last night, seven NBA ballplayers did better than Fulks' average, topped by Elgin Baylor, who scored 56 points while leading the Los Angeles Lakers to a 116-107 victory over Syracuse at Los Angeles.

Bob Cousy, he of the twists and turns and accurate eye, hit 33 as his Boston Celtics beat New York's Knickerbockers, 125-112, at New York; Bob Pettit had 37 as the St. Louis Hawks pleased the home fans and nipped Philadelphia, 114-112; and Bailey Howell dumped in 29 as his Detroit Pistons edged the Cincinnati Royals, 106-104.

Jack Twyman of the Royals, taking up the slack left by Oscar Robertson, who was able to play only 11 minutes, scored 37 in his team's losing effort at home.

Baylor's was an amazing performance. He made 19 field goals in 30 attempts and 18 of 20 free throw attempts. The 56-point total was a new Sports Arena mark, erasing the old one of 45 held jointly by Baylor and Cincy's Robertson.

San Jose Passing Star Signs To Play With Raiders

OAKLAND (UPI) — Quarterback Mike Jones of San Jose State, a quarterback who likes to pitch long ones, was under contract to the Oakland Raiders of the American Football League today.

The Raiders yesterday announced the signing of Jones and the two big linemen. They are Roger Fisher, 230-pound center from Utah State; and Arnold Metcalf, 252-pound tackle from Oregon State and the U.S. Army.

Jones was the club's 20th draft choice and he was also the 21st draft choice of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Tourney Winners At Indian Valley

Mesdames Andrew Mahony, Joel Hamby and William May teamed up for a card of 65 yesterday to win the Indian Valley Women's Golf Club's best ball threesome tournament on the Novato links.

Two teams tied at 67 for second place. They were Mesdames John Gaylord-Charles Barr-R. G. Cornelius and Roy Sayles-Charles Zapelli- J. E. Shipley.

BRESSOUD 5TH GIANT TO INK 1961 CONTRACT

Shortstop Eddie Bressoud has come to terms for the 1961 season, the San Francisco Giants said today.

Bressoud battled a knee injury through much of the 1960 season as he appeared in 116 games and hit .225. However, he showed good power for an infielder, whacking 19 doubles, 6 triples and 9 homers.

Terms of his contract were not announced.

Other Giants now under contract include Robert Farley, a first baseman-outfielder from Tacoma in the Pacific Coast League; John Weekly, who played outfield at Harlington, Tex.; and Giant regulars pitcher Sam Jones and third baseman-outfielder Harvey Kuenn. Kuenn was obtained from Cleveland last month.

Chargers Leave L.A. Move To San Diego

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Barron Hilton's Los Angeles Chargers, pretty good on the field last year but pitiful at the gate, were practically moved here today as the San Diego city manager began work on a final contract between the city and the American Football League club.

A big hurdle was cleared yesterday when the city council authorized the drawing up of the contract after an all-day meeting of city officials with representatives of the club.

Landing the Chargers won't be a carte blanche affair, however. Youthful Hilton, whose father runs the mighty hotel empire of the same name, estimated the switch of cities will set San Diego back $273,000.

Park and Recreation Director Les Earnest said the AFL team, which finished second to Houston in the league last season, would cost the city $526,000.

An attorney for the Chargers, J. Stacey Sullivan, presented 10 proposals to the council yesterday, challenging the group to show San Diego "was a big league city" by accepting.

REVAMP STADIUM

His proposals included revamping Balboa Stadium to hold 34,500 fans, free rent, free concessions for home games, excavation of the field to a depth of four feet, renovation of locker rooms, reseeding the turf, miscellaneous stadium renovation and parking lots for which fees would be charged and become Charger concessions on game days.

The Chargers lost an estimated $900,000 in Los Angeles last year and Hilton said he would be lucky if the team didn't lose more than $100,000 the first season here. But the club proposed they pay the city "five per cent of the profits if any" in place of rent.

More Charger officials were due here later in the week to complete details of the city switch and handle contract negotiations.

Little Pirates Remain Unbeaten

Drake High's Little Pirates remained undefeated in the Class B division of the Marin Athletic League basketball schedule yesterday with a 41-21 victory over Novato. Brad Busch led the win with 14 points.

Drake is now 4-0 in won-lost records, followed by Tamalpais 3-1, Marin Catholic 3-1, San Rafael 1-3, Redwood 1-3 and Novato 0-4.

Other games yesterday: Tam 43, Redwood 32, Marin Catholic 23, San Rafael 21. Tam's Art Foster led all scorers with 17 points.

Tars To Play 'Home' Games At Prep Gym

College of Marin Tars, whose home gymnasium in Kentfield was condemned as a fire hazard early this month, will complete their 1961 "home" basketball schedule at Marin County high school gymnasiums, Director of Athletics Harry Pieper announced last night.

Friday's game with American River College will be played at San Rafael High starting at 8 p.m. Other games will be Feb. 3 against Shasta College at Sir Francis Drake High, Feb. 17 against Napa College at San Rafael and Feb. 25 against University of California frosh at Novato High.

New Drug Reduces Athletic Injuries

NEW YORK (AP)—Instant coffee, stretch socks and fumble-proof footballs—what limits, science?

Now they've come up with pills for black eyes, And for bruises, swellings, cuts, sprains and bursitis. It's simple. You get a bad knock on the head or a hard jolt on the thigh—a fracture or a sprain.

Don't be alarmed. Put a little white pill under your tongue, let it dissolve, and you're back in action in no time.

This relatively new medical discovery has attracted the attention of coaches and trainers of athletic teams, who find that the loss of talent through injuries can be reduced sharply.

OLYMPICS TEST

The drug known as veridase was tried by boxers in the 1960 Olympics and also has been tested by members of the Boston Red Sox baseball team, the New York Giants and St. Louis Cardinals football teams and the Cincinnati Royals basketball team.

Its use is expected to spread now that it is the subject of articles in medical journals and athletic magazines.

"This is by no means a cure-all," says Dr. Russell Caheen of New York, who helped in the development of the drug, "but evidence is now in that shows that the drug affords prompt and dramatic improvement in athletes suffering bruises, cuts and other injuries."

The pill contains an enzyme known as streptokinase. In technical language, an area of inflammation is produced at the site of the injury and walled off from the uninjured tissues by a limiting membrane.

The pills were used by 150 of the 294 boxers in the Olympic Games at Rome—sometimes before and sometimes after the fights. Dr. J. L. Blonstein of the Amateur International Boxing Assn. said injuries on the whole were remarkably low.

Cuts did not require suturing, the doctor said, and black eyes, which ordinarily stay black a couple of weeks, cleared up in three days.

RED SOX TREATED

Dr. T. A. Lamphier, team physician of the Boston Red Sox, reported that he treated some 20 members of the team with the drug last year.

"The results were excellent," Dr. Lamphier said. "The number of out-of-play days was greatly reduced."

Frank Gifford, the Giants' star halfback, was hit by three Cardinal defenders and went down with torn ligaments of the right knee. The drug was administered. Dr. F. J. Sweeny, team physician, said normally Gifford would have been lost for three games. He was back in action the following week.

ANGELS OFFICIALLY IN BUSINESS

Big Bob Cerv (center) and little Albie Pearson (right) yesterday became the first players to sign contracts with the new Los Angeles franchise in the American League. Looking on is the club's president, Bob Reynolds. Cerv, ex-Yankee star, and Pearson, obtained from Baltimore, were introduced to the L.A. press at a luncheon yesterday. (AP Wirephoto)

State Agency Will Not Fool With Lions

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Like the California Fish and Game Department, a state Senate committee also wants no part of a sea lion program.

Commercial salmon fishermen asked the 1959 Legislature to order the Fish and Game Department to reduce the sea lion population from 19,700 to 5,000.

The fishermen claimed the sea lions were eating salmon and fouling their nets.

Their proposal brought much outcry from friends of sea lions, so the 1959 Senate ordered an 18-month study by its Fact Finding Committee on Natural Resources.

The committee reported on Monday. It recommended no new laws.

It said it agrees with the Fish and Game Department that present laws are adequate. They allow fishermen to kill any sea lion found damaging nets, tackle or fish.

Department experts also advised the committee that sea lions' are cagey and prolific and might outsmart human exterminators.

The department also doubted that the public would tolerate all-out war on the sea lion rocks with bombs, machine guns, and poison.

WHAT A CATCH!

Sports Queen Barbara Bender angles for a big catch as she prepares for the 17th annual San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show to be held at the Cow Palace, Feb. 3 through 12. New types of fishing equipment will be featured at the sports and marine exposition vacationland displays. Barbara will be there, too.

Prep Cage Star Hits 73 Points

ELLIOTTSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Johnny Treicis, a 5-11 senior, scored 73 points last night as his Green Park High School basketball team defeated Carson Long 104-26.

Treicis dumped in 31 field goals and 11 free throws. His season average is 26.2 points a game.

Cal Poly Rallies To Top USF, 60-51

SAN LUIS OBISPO (AP) — Although down 30-23 at the half, Cal Poly revved up in the second 20 minutes to defeat invading University of San Francisco 60-51 in a basketball game here Tuesday night.

Cal Poly popped in 17 of 22 free throws in its rallying half. Theo Dunn, high for the game with 17 points, swished seven of Poly's charity tosses in the game's closing minutes.

L.A's Purchase Of 'Infants' Evokes Awe

NEW YORK (AP) — Reporters at the historic draft meeting in Boston Dec. 14 when the two newest American League clubs spent millions purchasing worn out veterans and inexperienced youngsters were amazed when General Manager Fred Haney of the Los Angeles Angels selected five first year kids — at $75,000 apiece.

"Aubrey Gatewood? Bob Sprout? Who are they?" the writers asked.

"Gatewood and Sprout are pitchers," said Haney. "They're just kids but some day they'll be big league stars."

STRANGER THINGS

It is doubtful whether Manager Billy Rigney expects to make the club this year, but stranger things have happened.

Sprout, 19, is a left-hander with an impressive 15-7 won and lost record and a creditable 2.61 earned run percentage at Decatur of the class D Midwest League. He also fanned 264 batters in 190 inpings. That's an average of between 12 and 13 a game.

Gatewood, 21 and a right-hander, was 9-5 with 2.65 ERA at Duluth-Superior of the class C Northern League.

Of the other three first-year men, the one most likely to stick is Don Ross, 22, a bonus infielder acquired from Baltimore. Ross, a third baseman, was so highly regarded by the Orioles that they assigned him immediately to Vancouver, a triple A club. The youngster got into only 14 games but batted .343.

CHIEF OPPOSITION

Ross' chief opposition for the regular third base job will come from Gene Leek, another big bonus youngster. Leek, the former Arizona U. athlete, was given $30,000 by the Cleveland Indians a couple of years ago. Last year he played at Mobile in the Southern Association and batted .260 in 147 games.

Big league scouts are high on pitcher Dean Chance, a right-hander, who had a 12-9 record with Appleton in the Three-Eye League.

NEXT: St. Louis Cardinals.

Santa Anita Race To Have 2 More Eligibles

ARCADIA (AP) — Two $10,000 supplementary payments have made T. V. Lark and Prove It eligible for Saturday's rich Santa Anita Maturity for 4-year-olds at 1¼ miles.

There are 16 horses eligible for the maturity but the field may be only eight. In addition to T. V. Lark and Prove It, the field most likely will consist of Ralph Lowe's New Policy; C. V. Whitney's Tompion; Travis M. Kerr's Grey Eagle and Prince Blessed; Mrs. C. M. Ring's Windy Sands, and Peter F. Bullen's Djeddah Pat.

If there are eight starters Saturday the purse will be $169,370, with the winner getting $95,370.

GOALBY CLINGS TO TOP SPOT IN EARNINGS

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Bob Goalby, playing out of Crystal River, Fla., today clung to first place in professional golf's 1961 money winnings.

Goalby picked up $7,500 by winning the Los Angeles Open Jan. 8. He has collected only $1,300 in two subsequent tournaments, according to the latest figures from PGA headquarters.

Bob Rosburg, former Stanford University star playing out of Overland Park, Kan., is second with $6,700 in prize money.

Kilmer Receives Pop Warner Award

PALO ALTO (AP)—Bill Kilmer, versatile UCLA tailback, last night received the annual Pop Warner award as the outstanding football player on the West Coast this past season.

The award was made at the Palo Club's 15th annual banquet. Former Stanford fullback Ernie Nevers made the award in memory of the late grid coach.

Stars and other notables from many fields of sport, including Buck Shaw, retired coach of the NFL champion Philadelphia Eagles, attended.

Kilmer has already signed to play with the San Francisco 49ers next season.

U.S. Pro Grass Tennis To Be Discontinued

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The annual U.S. Pro Tennis Grass Court Championship at Forest Hills, N.Y., will be abandoned this summer, says Jack Kramer.

Kramer, pro tennis promoter, said bad luck in the event in previous years—such as rain and poor attendance — led to the decision.

Kramer's touring troupers open a two-night stand here tomorrow night.

League Plans April Opener

The San Anselmo Little League will have an April 30th season opener according to its 1961 tentative baseball schedule.

Registration of players for the league's eighth season is planned for the first or second week of February.

These decisions were made this week at a general membership meeting at which Marston Thall was re-elected league president.

Other officers and directors elected are: Vice president — senior league Phil Hiaring; vice president—junior league Bert LeBeck; vice president—major league Dick Henika; vice president — minor league John Looney; secretary Leo Miller; treasurer and purchasing agent Dick Street; players agent Walt Anderson; directors Harry Press, Lee Berryhill, Joe Crean, Bill Franchini, Gino Gizzi, Chas. Hudson, Bruno Iacopi, Fred Angeli, Frank Quinn, George Imperiale, Nick Nacca, Joe Glaser, Don Thompson, John Grey, Ben Badaracco, Nelson King and Clem Swagerty. Team managers automatically become directors. President Thall appointed Stan Gerughty superintendent of grounds and chairman of schedule-making.

State Has Trouble Predicting Betting

SACRAMENTO (AP)—You say you can't always predict the winner of a horse race?

Well, the state can't predict how much you're going to bet on it either.

Gov. Brown's budget predicts that $489 million will be bet at California tracks in the year starting next July 1.

But here's how wrong such predictions have been in the past:

1958: Predicted $506 million. Actually wagered $487 million.

1959: Predicted $515 million. Actually $481 million.

1960: Predicted $538 million. Probably $479 million.

It looks like this year the state experts have read the form.

If $489 million comes in next year, the state tax will be $36,775,000.

IT'S THE TIME of year to add some new recipes to your collection, and here are two that are sure to please—golden-baked chicken and dark, juicy flank steak with old-fashioned, rich corn bread stuffing. Expertly seasoned, golden-crumbly, and just plain good.

Corn Bread Stuffing For Chicken, Steak

It's the time of year to add some new recipes to your collection, and here are two that are sure to please — golden-baked chicken and dark, juicy flank steak with old-fashioned, rich corn bread stuffing.

Now's the time to indulge in marvelous meals from the oven, and these corn bread stuffings will bring on requests for repeat performances from every member of your family.

The basic stuffing is a speedy operation. Follow easy corn bread directions on the package and add just a few ingredients of your own. Let the oven take over, and bring on either of these old-time favorites — expertly seasoned, golden-crumbly, and just plain good.

CORN BREAD STUFFING
(For 4-5 pound chicken or 2 pound flank steak)

- 4½ cups (1 15-ounce package) corn bread, crumbled
- ½ cup day-old bread squares
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 2 teaspoons poultry seasoning
- 1½ teaspoons sage
- ½ cup chopped celery
- 1 cup chopped onion
- ¼ cup (½ stick) butter or margarine, melted
- 1 bouillon cube (beef cube for flank steak, chicken cube for chicken)
- 1 cup hot water

With Chicken: Add 1 cup diced apples before stuffing.

With Flank Steak: Add ¼ pound sliced, sauteed mushrooms before stuffing.

1. Prepare and bake corn bread mix (15 ounces) as directed.
2. Combine corn bread and bread in large bowl.
3. Blend in egg, salt, pepper, poultry seasoning and sage.
4. Saute celery and onion in butter or margarine until soft, but not brown.
5. Add to bread mixture.
6. Dissolve bouillon cube in hot water and add to mixture, stirring lightly.
7. Add sauteed mushrooms or diced apples before stuffing

Extra stuffing may be baked in loaf pan.

STUFFED FLANK STEAK

- 1 recipe corn bread stuffing
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons salad oil or bacon drippings
- 1 cup water

1. Sprinkle salt on steak, then spread with stuffing. Roll crosswise and fasten edges with skewers.
2. In hot fat in roasting pan or skillet, brown steak well on both sides. Add water. Cover. Bake in moderate oven (360°F.) about 2 hours, or until tender.
3. To serve, slice in about 1-inch slices across roll. Makes 6 servings.

Turkey, Ham Au Gratin Real Tasty

This turkey 'n ham au gratin casserole, topped with tasty, toasty, nutritious wheat germ instead of bread crumbs, can be glorified with all the adjectives in the gastronomical glossary, but let's just say it's real good eating.

The diced turkey and ham, always a good combination, give the casserole a meaty substance, while the flavor-blend of melted cheese, mustard, Tabasco sauce, sliced mushrooms and sherry adds a delicious piquancy.

TURKEY 'N HAM AU GRATIN

- ½ cup butter or margarine
- ¼ cup flour
- ½ teaspoon mustard
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 2 cups milk
- ¼ pound pasteurized process American cheese, shredded
- 3 drops Tabasco sauce
- 3 tablespoons sherry, optional
- ¾ cup wheat germ
- 1⅓ cups diced boiled or baked ham (about ⅓ pound)
- 1⅓ cups diced cooked turkey (about ⅓ pound)
- 1 can (4 ounce) sliced mushrooms, drained

Melt ¼ cup butter or margarine; blend in flour, mustard and salt. Add milk; cook until thick and smooth, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add cheese and tabasco sauce; stir until cheese is melted. Add sherry, if desired. Melt remaining ¼ cup butter or margarine; stir in wheat germ. Spread ½ of the buttered wheat germ over bottoms of 4 to 6 individual casseroles. Divide ham, turkey and mushrooms evenly between casseroles. Top with cheese sauce. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 10 minutes. Top with remaining buttered wheat germ. Return to oven; bake until sauce is bubbly around edges and crumbs lightly browned, about 10 minutes.

THIS WHEAT GERM, ham 'n turkey au gratin casserole, oftentimes called the "chef's special" in smart supper clubs, shows again how culinary magic can convert leftovers into gourmet fare. Wheat germ adds its nutritional help and a tasty, toasty topping.

Elegant Entree

Listen to your guests rave when they taste this elegant chicken-almond entree. Dip chicken breasts in seasoned flour and brown lightly. Arrange in baking pan. Stir a teaspoon of curry powder into cream of chicken soup and pour over chicken. Cover and bake in moderate oven about 40 minutes, until tender. Stir in ½ cup each chopped or slivered almonds and commercial sour cream. Serve with browned rice and broiled chutney-filled cling peach halves.

Eggs, Oriental

Meaty ripe olives and soy sauce add a Far-Eastern flavor to everyday scrambled eggs. Saute chopped onion in butter; add beaten egg and milk mixture, sliced ripe olives, seasonings and a dash of soy sauce.

Good Things To Eat In Galleys Of Boats

It is continually amazing to once-in-awhile sailors that such good things to eat can come out of the tiny galleys that one finds on most of the boats cruising San Francisco Bay.

The San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show at the Cow Palace, Feb. 3-12 will give prospective boat owners a chance to check space and equipment, but to find the real secret of preparing good food there, you'll need to talk to an experienced hand.

Surprisingly, most galley cooking falls into just two categories—it's very quick or it's a dish that takes long, slow cooking. Either way, canned, pre-cooked or packaged foods are the foundation, and the seasonings add individuality. Herbs, spices and California wine adapt well to successful galley recipes.

Suggestions for their use will be available at the show in the form of a folder of recipes. Here are sample suggestions:

GALLEY BARBECUED CHICKEN

- 1 large frying chicken, or 2 halved broiling chickens
- ⅓ cup sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ⅓ cup shortening
- 1 cup California Rose
- ¼ cup finely chopped raw onion
- 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon brown sugar
- ½ teaspoon powdered marjoram
- ½ teaspoon powdered thyme

Have chickens cut in serving pieces, wash and pat dry with paper towels. Sift together flour, salt and paprika, and shake chicken pieces, a few at a time, in paper bag with flour mixture. Heat shortening in skillet, and brown chicken slowly in it. Combine all remaining ingredients, pour over chicken, cover and simmer about 30 minutes, or until chicken is tender. Sauce may be thickened slightly, if desired, with a little cornstarch.

SKIPPER'S SAUCE FOR FISH
(Makes about ⅔ cup)

- 2 tablespoons chopped green onion
- ¼ teaspoon curry powder
- ½ cup butter
- ¼ cup California Sauterne
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley

Cook onion with curry powder gently in butter 3 or 4 minutes. Add remaining ingredients and heat gently. Spoon over fried or broiled fish.

Budget Stew Has Flavor Of Middle East

- 3 tablespoons lard or drippings
- 2 cups water
- ½ cup raisins
- 1 cup sliced apples, peeled and cored
- ½ cup chopped onion
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 3 cups hot cooked rice

Mix ¼ cup flour with curry powder. Dredge meat in seasoned flour. Cook garlic in lard or drippings about 5 minutes. Remove garlic, add meat and brown. Pour off drippings. Add water, raisins, apples, onion and salt. Cover tightly and simmer for 2 to 2½ hours, or until meat is tender. Thicken with 3 tablespoons flour. Serve over rice. 4 to 6 servings.

Invitations Are Extended For Club 'Oriental Holiday'

Invitations have been sent to all parents in the Reed School District inviting them to attend the dance on Saturday, Feb. 4 which the Bel Aire Unit of the Reed District Parent-Teacher Club is sponsoring. "Oriental Holiday" is the theme chosen for the affair which will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

The theme was chosen because of the proximity of the date to Chinese New Year's and the food committee has promised an exotic midnight breakfast in keeping with the motif.

Money raised by the affair will be used to purchase library books and supplies for the Bel Aire School according to Mrs. Larry Gaffney, general chairman.

The dance has been presented annually by the Reed Parent Teacher Club as a fund raising event for the whole district. It has always been called the Valentine Dance. This year the club decided not to sponsor the affair and the Bel Aire Unit has taken over.

Already many parties are planned to precede the dance. The Richard MacLaurys have invited the members of the Board of Trustees to dinner at their Belvedere home. Included are the David Rings, Erwin Farleys, Erwin Farkas', and Leo Souzas. The Alfred Azevedos were also invited but will be unable to come because of the imminence of their departure for Europe. Azevedo served on the Board until recently.

Dr. and Mrs. Lorne Tanner will give a cocktail and dinner party at their beach home and have invited Messrs. and Mesdames William Di Grazia, John Duckett, O.N. Buckner, Grant Waggoner, Arnt Tiensvold, Kenneth Frost and Richard Von Borstel.

The Robert Hamiltons will honor their children's teachers both past and present at a dinner party. Mrs. Hamilton is president of the Bel Aire Unit.

The Harry Howards of Belveron Gardens have invited a group of friends and neighbors for cocktails. Among them are Messrs. and Mesdames Allan Olson, Ben Perkins, George Martinez, Kelly Wheeler, William Sullivan, Byron Christopherson, Rodney Burgett, Max Staley, William Gray and Jack Van Houten.

Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Craig Gilbert, ticket chairman, in Little Reed Heights.

The Greenbrae Guild has the Odds and Ends booth at the Grape Festival, and will soon bep reparing for the 62nd annual event on Saturday, Oct. 7 by collecting decorator's samples and remnants.

Mrs. Stenstrom has appointed Mesdames Ruffino and Millard W. Young as co-chairmen of the Easter Hat Parade luncheon, the Guild's fund raising event. This will be held on Friday, February 24th at 12:30 p.m. at the Meadow Club. Hats from a San Francisco store, will be modeled by members of 15 of the Sunny Hill Guilds. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Reynolds.

Bonnie Hubbard's KUPBOARD

FUN WITH FOOD AND HELPFUL HINTS

In hats, this spring, the soft "Sombrero," rolling back from the face, gets the vote. But when it comes to pickles, it's still LADY'S CHOICE . . . the sweet or piquant-and-tangy pickles which brighten any meal. LADY'S CHOICE Sweet Pickles and crisp celery sticks make an interesting first course, and add inexpensive sparkle to a stew or casserole dinner.

"Flour, sugar, shortening, REYNOLDS WRAP —". It isn't strange that this aluminum foil is just as much part of a baking recipe as any other ingredient; it makes pie dough easy to handle, saves washing cake pans. When you bake a cake, lay two strips of REYNOLDS Wrap at right angles in the pan. When the cake is cool you can lift it out without breakage.

★ Cookies stay fresh if you keep a piece of apple in the jar.

When the olives go 'round and 'round, strangers become friends! There's something about ripe olives, especially OBERTI'S, that starts the conversation flowing . . . one of many reasons that I always include them among the appetizers. (Main reason of course: OBERTI Ripe Olives taste so good; their delicate, nutty flavor is the pleasantest prelude to a good dinner.)

A hot sandwich is a wise choice for a group luncheon. Here is one which is both thrifty and tempting: For each four persons, combine 1 cup chopped ripe olives with 1½ cups cheese spread, and 1 large tin WHITE STAR Tuna. Add ½ teaspoon chili powder and spread on buttered bread. Broil until golden brown, piping hot; serve with fruit salad and coffee.

Who started the rumor that greens are for women and rabbits? Most men seem to enjoy salads, even demand them. Combine Romaine, garden lettuce, spinach. Toss with this classic dressing, made with CHALLENGE Oil: Combine salt, pepper, garlic and 1 Tb. CHALLENGE. Mix well, add 1½ Tb. tarragon vinegar, mix again, add 3 Tb. oil. Beat well; use immediately.

★ Make toast-cups for creamed dishes. Fit de-crusted bread slices into muffin tins, brush with butter and toast in oven.

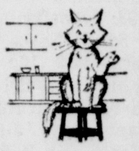
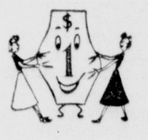
"And plenty of orange juice, please!" Babies need Vitamin C at all times, now more than ever. GERBER Orange Juice, pressed from tree-ripe oranges, comes in a new, handy Six-Pak container (six trim little cans of strained juice in an easy-to-carry carton). When you shop at the GERBER shelf, look for the economical, convenient Six-Pak Orange Juice carton.

A cat can look at a queen, but if you want your Tabby to feel like one, the right kind of diet is important. HOLSUM Cat Food is the answer; this tasty dish is the joy of cat-connoisseurs . . . fresh meat and fresh fish give it the aroma felines love. It also contains a skillful blend of cereals, vegetables, added vitamins, food to keep a cat happy, healthy and silken-furred.





It takes a lot of pull to stretch a dollar nowadays! But there's still a trick or two left for budgeteers; for instance, SANI-CLOR . . . this excellent liquid bleach can be used with perfect safety to fabrics and household surfaces, yet it is one of the thriftiest buys you'll find. For a clean, bright wash, add SANI-CLOR to the water along with the soap or detergent.

That's all for now! See you next week! Bonnie Hubbard

COMMITTEEWOMEN, from left, for the Ninth annual Sabella's in Marin March of Dimes Dinner Mrs. Edwin Christie and Mrs. Arthur Dettner of Sausalito and Mrs. Henry Mallowney of San Rafael pose at a recent luncheon in preparation for the benefit. Tickets are available from the members of the committee or at Sabella's at $10 per person as a contribution to the March of Dimes.

Balmain Skirts Just Cover Knee

PARIS (AP) — Pierre Balmain launched a semi-fitted, softly feminine silhouette with straight skirts that just cover the knee.

He treated the bosom to draping and bow and braid trimming to give it emphasis, and merely hinted at the waistline under bloused-over tops or unfitted jackets and blouses.

In spite of tailored revers and such mannish materials as pin stripes, Balmain's suits are anything but severe. His colors are pale lilac, white, coffee-cream, shocking pink, green, aqua, and black and white combinations.

The windblown idea that seems to have swept Paris this season creeps in again in such vaporous materials as floating chiffons, georgette in a new revival, thin silk crepe and gauzy woolens.

Even woolen coats are ventilated for the spring breezes. They are seamed together with open faggoting.

Gracious garden parties would be the proper setting for Balmain's draped floral chiffon dresses with matching chiffon coats. Airy as the material is, sleeves are sometimes cuffed with mink or sable.

Balmain has returned to his ribbon streamer skirts that float free of the figure. One model is in brown and white silk crepe cut in vertical stripes pleated in the bodice and over-skirted with streamers.

Redwood Guild Names New Board

Names of board members were announced at the recent meeting of Mill Valley's Redwood Guild of Sunny Hills at the home of the president, Mrs. George Turnbull.

Serving with Mrs. Turnbull will be Mesdames William Maxwell Jr., vice president; J. W. Culmer, recording secretary; Carl Waltmann, corresponding secretary; George Blackwell, treasurer; Eugene McGeorge, parliamentarian; John Wyand, hostess committee; Herbert Marsh, Bargain Box; and Ralph Gordon, membership; William Fleming, publicity; Carl Mosher, Grape Festival.

The guild will start work on its project for the year making chutney, smocks and collecting driftwood to sell at the Grape Festival, which is held annually on the first Saturday in October. Proceeds from this festival are the main financial income of Sunny Hills.

Following the meeting new members honored at a tea were Mesdames Cecil Brown, Ralph Gordon and William Fleming.

Final Plans Made For March Of Dimes Dinner

Ticket chairwomen for Sabella's in Marin Ninth Annual March of Dimes Dinner held a luncheon meeting last week to make final plans for the gala event to be held Monday, Jan. 30, at the Marin restaurant.

By tradition, the dinner is held on the last Monday of January as the largest social and fund-raising event of the Marin March of Dimes drive. Tickets can be obtained through any of the chairwomen or by calling Sabella's in Marin for the price of a 10-dollar contribution per person to the New March of Dimes.

Since all the food and drink for the dinner is contributed by restaurateur Angelo Sabella and his purveyors, the staff give their services, and musicians and entertainers give benefit performances, every penny of the contribution goes to the charity. In the past the dinner has raised over $3,000.

Co-chairwomen of the dinner committee are Mrs. Elmer Martin of Belvedere and Mrs. Paul Spengler of Ross. Committeewomen include Mesdames Arthur Dettner and Edwin Christie of Sausalito; Henry Mallowney, Robert Walker, William Smart of San Rafael; Guy Ciocca, John Rademann, Fred T. Adams of Greenbrae; Wagner d'Alessio, Henry Hensler, Arnold Nutting, John McGee of Ross; Sue Standring, Alfred Porter, Carroll Russell of San Anselmo; Chester Noyes, John Siemens, Russell Fletcher of Kent Woodlands; J. B'nai B'rith To Form New Chapter

A new B'nai B'rith chapter is being organized in Marin. The B'nai B'rith is an international service organization which also serves non-sectarian civic and community needs.

An organizational meeting is being held Wednesday, Feb. 1 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Gary Rifkind, 751 Monticello Road, Terra Linda. The new chapter invites all young Jewish women who are interested to attend. A chapter name will be selected and more information will be given the group by the evening's speaker, Mrs. Harry Tauber, second vice president of District 4.

Temporary officers were chosen at the January meeting. They are Mesdames Gary Rifkind, Terra Linda, chairman; Martin Marks, Terra Linda Valley, vice chairman and San Rafael membership chairman; Jack Falcon, Marinwood, recording secretary; Melvin Segal, San Rafael, financial secretary; Gerald Weisbach, Mill Valley, publicity chairman; Herbert Korner, Mill Valley, Southern Marin membership chairman.

8 Marin Women Are Recipients Of Camp Fire Council Awards

Last night eight Marin County women were the recipients of National Awards for their service to the Marin County Council of Camp Fire Girls. The occasion was the Golden Jubilee Dinner held at the Meadow Club in Fairfax.

Before an audience of 200 people, Mrs. Ward Austin, Larkspur, presented the Luther Halsey Gulick Award, the highest award available to adult volunteers, to Mrs. Robert Mills, Ross; Mrs. Roscoe Smith, San Anselmo, and Mrs. Robin Galloway, Kentfield. The Gulick award is presented in recognition of at least five years outstanding service to the local council.

Mrs. Mills was recognized as having developed the council's first really active, effective Day Camp Committee which transformed Day Camp into a program of appreciation and love of the out-of-doors for Blue Birds as well as Camp Fire Girls and Horizon Club program aides.

One of the unsung heroes of Camp Fire Girls is Mrs. Smith. She has given 13 years service as leader, assistant leader and sponsor while, at the same time, serving on the Camping Committee as jack-of-all trades— from purchasing equipment to clean up.

Mrs. Galloway was president of the Council for two years and during that time her leadership and direction developed the district plan of organization. She has worked long and hard to secure finally a lease on the resident camp property and has solicited funds for many council projects from her friends and acquaintances.

A new national award, the Ernest Thompson Seton Award, was presented for the first time this year to Mrs. William Franchini, San Anselmo and Mrs. Sidney Foote, Fairfax, for their contribution to the Camp Fire Girls program as a volunteer over a period of at least three years.

Mrs. Franchini was praised for her contribution to policy and procedure development and also for having developed a plan of district group organization which has resulted in a membership growth. Mrs. Foote was responsible for bringing the program to an area of the council which had had no Camp Fire Girls program. As a site director of Day Camps she has developed a wonderful program of love and appreciation of the out-of-doors.

The Wakan Award of special recognition of outstanding leadership with their groups and outstanding service in addition to work with their own group, was presented to Mrs. Harold Fulkerson, San Rafael, and Mrs. George Pelmear, Novato, and Mrs. Thomas Gilboy, Kentfield.

Mrs. Austin, in the presentation, told of Mrs. Fulkerson's years of devoted service to Camp Fire Girls in building attitudes which effect the future lives of the girls in her group who are even now demonstrating these values and high ideals which they have learned from her. The conscientious leadership of Mrs. Pelmear has encouraged in her girls the love of home and family and pride in woman's traditional qualities. Her enthusiasm for the program has led many other women to give service to to Camp Fire Girls. Through Mrs. Gilboy's generous gift of leadership to two groups of Camp Fire Girls, she has led many girls to happy healthy womanhood and is serving as an inspiration to many other leaders.

CUTTING THE CAKE at the reception which followed their recent wedding in the Bellevue First Congregational Church in Bellevue, Wash., are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Benjamin. Jack Benjamin Claims Bride At Ceremony In Washington

Residing in San Francisco following their recent marriage in the chapel of the Bellevue First Congregational Church in Bellevue, Wash., are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Henry Benjamin.

The bride, the former Laurie Jo Wells, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Curtis Wells of Bellevue.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mrs. William Ochs of San Francisco and Jack B. Benjamin of Kentfield.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white peau de soie fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and full skirt. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was held by a peau de soie bandeau and she carried white stephanotis and roses.

The sister of the bridegroom, as maid of honor, Jacquelyn Benjamin of San Francisco, was gowned in turquoise satin.

Mr. Benjamin was best man for his son and ushers included Edward E. Wells, the bride's brother, Jon Ostlund and Glen D. Campbell.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Seattle Tennis Club.

The newlyweds are both graduates of Stanford University.

University Women Name New Members

The Mill Valley Branch of the American Association of University Women has six new members, according to membership chairman Mrs. Frank L. Smith.

These members together with other new ones to be honored at a tea on Feb. 4, are Mesdames Theodore Kessler, Pennsylvania State; Albert C. Kihn, University of California; Paul Kydd, Columbia University; Robert E. Swingley, Stanford University; Arthur Klatsky, New York University; Milton Crabtree, University of California.

Mrs. Smith also announced that 13 colleges and universities have been added to the list of institutions meeting requirements for membership in AAUW. All graduates of these institutions are now eligible for membership in the association.

New institutions added to the list are Adrian College, Adrian, Mich.; Concordia College, Moorhead, Minn.; Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, Tex.; Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Ruston, La.; and Our Lady of Cincinnati College, Cincinnati, O.

Others are Paterson State College, Paterson, N.J.; St. Louis University, St. Louis, Mo.; Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, W. Va.; New York State College of Education, Brockport, N.Y.; New York State College of Education, New Platz, N.Y.; New York State College of Education, Plattsburgh, N.Y., and Stephen F. Austin College, Nacogdoches, Tex.

Addition of these institutions brings the AAUW list to 469 colleges and universities whose women graduates are eligible for membership. To be recognized these institutions must maintain high academic standards and a substantial orientation to and foundation in the liberal arts, extend professional recognition to women on faculties and in administration, make adequate provision for women students and maintain academic freedom.

Anyone interested in the AAUW program may contact Mrs. Smith for further information.

P-TA Council Sets Session On Reading

The Mill Valley P-TA Council invites the public to attend a special program on "Evaluating and Treating Reading Disability" Tuesday, Jan. 31 at 8 p.m. in Room 20, Park School.

Mrs. Merrill De Witt, director of a Reading Therapy Clinic in San Rafael, will deal with two kinds of reading programs, one for the reader truly crippled by his reading disability, and the other for developing greater reading proficiency.

Mrs. De Witt believes that whatever the aim, reading therapy must be designed to meet specific needs of each individual, and she has based her work on her experiences with teaching in the public schools.

She says "Our schools do a fine job of teaching thousands of children to read each year, but there are others who need special care and assistance."

A question and answer period will follow Mrs. De Witt's talk, which has been arranged by Mrs. Harry Smith, special education chairman.

Robert Davidson, guidance consultant for the Mill Valley School District, will also be present to discuss questions relative to the reading program in Mill Valley schools.

Old Mill P-TA Discusses Study

Program for the recent January meeting of Mill Valley's Old Mill P-TA was concerned with parent-teacher conferences and was the outcome of post-graduate study done by several Old Mill teachers at San Francisco State College and of their research.

In a discussion led by Principal William Lovvorn the teachers who talked on their experiences were Mrs. Jane Clayton, Mrs. Sandra Kirk, Miss Jackie Jones, Miss Phyllis Dunn and James Hull.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Theodore Althausen, parent representative, who submitted questions and observations from the Old Mill Parent Study Group.

Industry Coming To Marin Is Widening Our Tax Base

Home-owning taxpayers who have been calling for a "widened tax base" to ease the pressure on them, should be encouraged by the recent reports on business growth in Marin County.

Dun & Bradstreet, the financial agency, has compiled figures to show that in the last five years Marin and Santa Clara Counties are practically neck and neck in per centage of industrial growth. Santa Clara leads with a 37.9 per cent improvement in the number of businesses in the county, but Marin was close behind at 36.6 per cent.

That's well ahead of San Mateo 30.8 per cent, Sonoma 26.5 per cent, Alameda only 6 per cent and San Francisco with a loss of 7.7 per cent. Other counties of the Bay Area were in the middle.

Considered only were manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers and some service companies such as gasoline service stations and laundries. Not included were professional services or service businesses such as barber and beauty shops, real estate and stock brokers.

Sausalito and Corte Madera were the communities which made the largest per centage growth in Marin County. Sausalito boomed up 69.5 per cent in the five years, Corte Madera bounced up 68 per cent and Novato had a 54.8 per cent increase.

Kentfield and San Rafael both went up about 37 per cent, Larkspur 23.4 per cent, Mill Valley 19.3 per cent, San Anselmo was up 10.2 per cent, Fairfax and Pt. Reyes Station about 5 per cent each. Neither Ross nor Belvedere were considered in the report.

This is particularly interesting coming at just this time when the statistics on building in the county had just been released.

In spite of a 10 per cent drop in residential building during 1960, overall construction in Marin increased 6.6 per cent last year as compared with the year before.

Major reason for this was an 83 per cent increase in commercial-industrial building, according to the Marin Development Foundation. It was an exceedingly fine year for commercial construction.

So, taxpayers take hope. Commerce and light industry are coming to Marin; our tax base is being widened. And we hope the trend will continue.

The Kinds Of Live Oaks

Everyone in Marin who is the least bit interested in our county's trees, knows the live oak is one of our most handsome native trees.

Perhaps not so well-known is the fact that several kinds of live oaks grow here. We have the Coast Live Oak, Interior Live Oak and the Oracle Oak. The differences between them are quite pronounced in some respects.

The Coast Live Oak gave its name to Oakland, which was once a large oak forest. The Canyon Live Oak, some of the largest specimens of which are found on Mount Tamalpais, is often called the Maul Oak because its tough wood was used for the heads of mauls by the pioneers.

MONEY PINNED TO HER PETTICOAT

An old woman who believed in keeping her valuables close to her was found dead in Seattle, Wash. Pinned to her petticoat was $8,000 in old bills and gold certificates.

A savings book showing a bank balance of $6,912 was also carefully stitched to the 78-year-old woman's undergarment.

It is not surprising that some persons display more than ordinary concern in protecting their life savings against theft or accidental loss. After all, a reasonable amount of preparation for today's needs and tomorrow's emergencies should be everyone's goal.

But there is equal urgency to strike a happy balance in regard to material possessions. Anyone of us can become so preoccupied with things of this world that they gradually take over and possess us.

Keep the values of mind, heart and soul above those of the body, and you will maintain a health detachment — the basis for peace in time and eternity.

"Thou has not asked riches, and wealth, and glory, nor the lives of them that hate thee." (2 Paralipomenon 1:11)

Keep me, O Jesus, from becoming too earth-bound.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

He'd Be A Bold Pirate—If Wife Would Just Loosen Pursestrings

NEW YORK (AP) — Every red-blooded American boy at one time dreams of being a big bold pirate.

So, in our opinion, does every red-blooded middle-aged American man.

The seizure in the Caribbean this week of the Portuguese luxury liner Santa Maria by 70 passengers inimical to Portuguese Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar startled the world.

But, on closer examination of this rebellion at sea, we must admit to a feeling of personal letdown. After all, it was a political act, done by a group for a political purpose.

It holds none of the high adventure promised by our own fondest daydream — which is to hold up the giant Cunard liner Queen Mary single-handed with a carved wooden gun.

Over the years we've met dozens of other people who yearned to rob the Queen Mary, but most of them are lazy.

They haven't taken the trouble to think up a foolproof plan. We have. Here it is:

We board the great liner as a passenger and when it reaches a certain point at sea we surprise the captain in his cabin with our trusty little wooden gun.

Then we have the captain summon all his officers to the cabin and lock them in. Next, we ax all the radio equipment.

It is now time to rifle the ship's strong box, and we figure it ought to hold three—maybe five—million bucks.

Later, we are lowered into a launch, holding the captain as hostage, and speed to the horizon where a hidden submarine awaits us. We board the submarine, and leave the captain free to return to his ship in his launch.

THE SUBMARINE sails off to a remote South Seas island, where we found a dynasty, build a palace, and live happily and wealthily ever after.

There is only one reason this daydream has never come true. Our wife refuses to lend us the money to rent a used submarine. Every time we ask her, she says:

"No, I won't. What in heavens name do you want to hire a submarine for?"

THINK WE could tell her the truth? Of course not. She'd blab it all over the community by nightfall, and then half our neighbors would want to get into the act—and share the loot.

That won't do. Either we're going to pull this job single-handed—or we're not going to do it at all.

About Hopps Case Dismissal

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

For the information of your newspaper, I am enclosing copy of letter relative to the dismissal today of the indictment against me in the Equitable Plan case of Los Angeles.

Theodore Gladstone
Corcoran, Kostelanetz,
Gladstone & Lowell
52 Wall Street,
New York, N. Y.

I know you will be glad to know that the indictment against us in the Equitable Plan case of Los Angeles was today dismissed.

My counsel, Wainwright & Fleishell, had filed a 94-page brief on the facts and from a public relations standpoint, I wish that these points could have been argued.

Superior Court Judge Katz, however, merely decreed from the bench: "There is no need to go into the merits of the Hopps' case since he is clearly exempt under the statute of limitations."

Since a dozen other individuals were held for trial, I am hopeful that their testimony will eventually lead to good publicity for me.

Meanwhile, Ed Fleishell says he never had a client so little elated over a clean dismissal.

Does Our Law Protect Citizens?

In a moment of weak-minded hopelessness that it might do some good, I have sent the following telegram:

If both Lindseys have not been executed within 90 days it will be a clear indication that inept vapid and impotent legal ssytem dominated by liberal hand wringing sob sisters no longer gives any protection to citizens and that vigilance committees must be formed to decorate some of California's oaks.

There's More To Space Program Than Just Catching Russians

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Assemblyman John A. Busterud (R-San Francisco) has thrown a series of bills into the legislative hopper which could in some measure attack the recession problem at its source, rather than at the mouth.

These bills would provide certain tax cuts, amounting to about 40 million dollars. If the tax cuts are not a complete cure for recession, they at least would be of same assistance.

IT IS NO SECRET that one cause of unemployment is the reluctance of employers to carry workers when net proceeds are decreasing steadily because the government is collecting too many taxes. These decreases are in the face of steadily increasing gross returns.

The Democratic administration under Gov. Edmund G. Brown is attacking recession and unemployment at the mouth of the river, having proposed extra funds in unemployment benefits and a speed-up in the consumation of approximately 30 million dollars worth of school construction, as well as priorities on state construction in areas of heavy unemployment.

THIS PROCEDURE may well throw money back into circulation, but experts feel it will be too little and too helping the economy.

On the other hand, decreases in taxes could have some immediate effect by assuring employers that more funds would be available to carry on their business operations during the rest of the winter and during the next fiscal year.

The Democrats are assuring the public that major tax cuts will be impossible if the budget is to be balanced. Thus, increases voted by the Legislature in 1959, when Governor Brown took office, are scheduled to remain in effect, except for a minor decrease of five million dollars in sales taxes for prescription drugs.

BUSTERUD, who is chairman of the assembly's caucus, said the entire group of Republicans is in favor of major tax cuts at the present time.

The San Francisco assemblyman wants an across the board cut in income taxes, which would affect all the residents of California who are subject to this tax.

Additionally, he asks 9.4 million dollars off sales taxes by exempting drugs, glasses and hearing aids; 2.8 million from the bank and corporation tax by cutting the minimum tax in half and a reduction in the license charge for issuing stock.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Busterud Would Attack Recession By Tax Cut To Trim Unemployment

WASHINGTON — Why did the Eisenhower administration spend well over a billion dollars and why is the Kennedy administration planning to spend more to explore outer space?

Are we just trying to match the Russians in a search for illusive prestige? Or is this a wise and prudent investment for practical ends which serve the interests of all of us?

My judgment is that the expanding space program is useful in the extreme and that the progress we have been making during the past two years under Dr. Keith Glennan is now beginning to pay off, not only in recovered scientific prestige for the U. S., but also in terms which can soon be measured in dollars and cents.

OUR SPACE accomplishments are beginning to compare more than favorably with the Russians'. Wernher von Braun, director of the Huntsville Center, now agrees that not only are our scientific flights more nuemrous than the Soviets', but that "our total scientific achievement has been more solid."

But what next? Part of the U. S. timetable reads like this.

This year two astranauts in flight — a preliminary suborbital flight (100 miles up, 200 miles in distance) and then a man in space—and recovery.

In 1962 the launching of a planetary spacecraft and in 1963 a soft landing of instruments on the moon.

In 1964 the launching of an orbiting astronomical observatory, and the heavy-thrust Saturn is to be available in 1965—if not sooner.

BY THE END of the "sixties," bigger dreams will be attainable—a spacecraft in orbit about another planet and the probability of a manned landing on the moon.

The purpose of all this? Is it just to prove that the world does not have to look to the Communists for scientific eminence? That is plenty. That is vital. But there are more, usable developments for practical benefit to all of us here and now:

1. Meteorological satellites are at the point of achieving weather prediction capable of averting vast loss of life, preventing costly crop destruction and saving enormous sums of money. The value of the pictures taken by Tiros II are greatly exceeding expectations and even some degree of weather control is in prospect.

2. Reconnaissance satellites (the Midas for advance warning) will, on the word of von Braun, give the U. S. "a permanent missile watch over the whole surface of the globe and make a surprise missile attack forever impossible." The U-2 was a toy compared with Midas.

IT IS REGRETTABLE, of course, that we ever let the Soviets get the jump on us in outer space. We made two mistakes.

First, we wedded space exploration with defense planning and, thus, when the Pentagon found it did not need massive launching rockets for its own purposes, we passed them up.

Secondly, we failed to appreciate early enough what a terrific impact on the whole world would come by having the first space satellite in orbit. The Soviets saw it.

By putting non-military space exploration into the hands of the independent, civilian agency of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration under Dr. Glenn in October, 1958, plus the development of the heavy-thrust rocket, the Saturn, both of these mistakes are in process of being corrected.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RANDALL GOULD

Beautiful Battle Left Civic Center And Hospital Problem Both There

All right, you're stuck with it — that terrible/beautiful (cross out one) Civic Center. But only after a beautiful battle that was terrible.

One of the casualties was a 3,000-word presentation read to the supervisors last week by Aaron Green of the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation, after the die had been cast and the diehards were downcast.

Newspaper space being what it is, meaning it's less than you'd think considering what gets into the paper, Mr. Green that day won little more than a pleasant smile out of this reporter. On account a lot had to be said about things which counted, and at that time Mr. Green's presentation didn't.

IT WAS BASED on the thesis that the fur would still be flying when it was read. But the fur had flown about an hour before. Everybody by then wanted to think about something else, aside from Supervisors Castro and Gnoss, and even they were ready to relax.

Finally the other night I got around to give a hard glance over the report. I was in bed at the time beside my improved type of television which doesn't have to be looked at—I think they call it radio.

Green didn't so much say anything new as bring out points of renewed interest, now that this thing has another lease of life. He knows his job, but as Bill Fusselman told him, sometimes his communications aren't so good.

EVER SINCE the Imperial Hotel and I stood up together to that now almost forgotten 1923 earthquake in Tokyo, I have though pretty well of Frank Lloyd Wright. As to function at our Civic Center, as Green stresses, the design is tooled for special purpose even though such work wasn't Wright's usual line.

Certainly our administration building is, as Green puts it a bit ponderously, "uniquely integrated into the topography of the hillside."

It's going to be a solid reinforced concrete job and changes would be hard to make. As Crawford and Banning said more grammatically, turning a building meant for one purpose into something for another purpose ain't easy.

My impression is that cost will be moderate, considering. The current commitment is $3,436,800 for building, plus $423,855 for site development part of which will serve possible future construction.

Of course there is going to be a problem about that future construction. But never mind that right now. It will bee needed, all right. Costs probably will be higher and higher the longer we wait.

BUT THE STATE has served notice that It isn't going to wait indefinitely for something solid to be done about a new county hospital. Though sympathetic with myself as a taxpayer, I also symphathize with our supervisors, all five of whom are economy-minded, not just the three who got elected on an economy platform.

People who think that by twice voting against a hospital bond issue they made the problem disappear, are just kidding themselves.

Give the supervisorial majority its due; it made a try to merge two problems into one. And when the constituents start hollering that all the hoped-for economy isn't coming to pass, it's going to give me a big laugh to hear Fusselman, Ludy and Blair utter some cutting words about where these folks were when the kitchen got hot. A lot of them got outdoors quick.

ONE THING in Green's opus was funny, not the way he meant, but he was right. He said: "Criticism that the (administration) building is too large for the county's need is unfounded. It is always . . . necessary to plan for expansion in a new building at its original construction stage."

Puts me in mind of Parkinson's Law, dreamed up by a whimsical Limey. As I remember, the law was that you can always figure the number of hired hands will multiply fast enough to use all the money available.

So with public office buildings. Bang the food gong and here come the hired hands, galloping and reproducing. Call that Gould's Law.

Ogden Nash once decided to write one of those shaving verses tacked up on billboards but for some reason he didn't hit the jackpot. His verse read:

"Here lies the body

He watched the signs

A cop apprehended an unfortunate inebriate who was piloting his car the wrong way on a one-way thoroughfare. "Where dya think you're goin?," demanded the cop.

"Search me," replied the inebriate amiably. "I dunno where, but I mush be mighty late. Everybody else is coming back."

Today is Wednesday, Jan. 25, the 25th day of the year with 340 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

On this day in history:

In 1759, Robert Burns, national poet of Scotland, was born.

In 1858, Mendelssohn's wedding march was played for the first time as Queen Victoria's daughter married the Crown Prince of Prussia.

In 1890, the United Mine Workers of America, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor, was organized in Columbus, Ohio.

In 1915, transcontinental telephone service was inaugurated.

A thought for today: English biologist Thomas Huxley said: "Logical consequences are the scarecrows of fools and the beacons of wise men."

Florist Announces Prize Winners

Mr. and Mrs. Neal D. Smith of Santa Rosa were winners of the "Flower of the Month" prize given by Larkspur floral decorator Katherine Eubanks at the open house held Sunday to celebrate both the opening of her new shop and her 10th anniversary in business.

The winners will receive a bunch of flowers every month for the coming year.

Second prize winner of flowers during a six-month period was Dorothea Asmussen of Larkspur. Mr. and Mrs. William MacKay of Kentfield are third prize winners, with three months of floral deliveries as their award.

Nearly 2,000 persons attended the nine-hour open house.

Marin Co-op Launches Drive For 1,000 Member Families

The Marin Co-op Center Committee has launched a drive for 1,000 member families and a total investment of $100,000 to bring a consumer-owner supermarket to Corte Madera.

Consumers Cooperative of Berkeley has signed an option on 135,000 square feet at the Corte Madera Wye and has asked the town planning commission to rezone the area from professional and administrative office district to shopping district. A public hearing on the request will be held Feb. 13.

Dr. John Harris of Larkspur, chairman of the co-op center committee, announced that Arthur Danforth of Corte Madera will be membership drive chairman.

Danforth said drive workers will ask Marin residents to join the Berkeley cooperative, which is owned by more than 17,000 Bay Area families. The cooperative operates three shopping centers in the East Bay.

The Marin co-op has about 400 members to date, who have invested about $32,000, he said.

California grows four-fifths of all wines produced and consumed in America.

Marin Girl, Dog Win Showmanship Award

Jessica Lippitt, 13, and her dog, a golden retriever, won first prize in junior showmanship at the San Francisco Kennel Club over the weekend.

Jessica is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Grant Lippitt, of 162 Helens Lane, Mill Valley. Lippitt is a stock broker in San Francisco. It was the second straight year Jessica, a student at Edna Maguire School in Mill Valley, and her dog, Tammy, have won the prize.
